CUMBERLAND STRIKERS RUSH COMPANY WORKERS, ASSAULTING WATCHMAN, WHOSE RETALIATION DRIVES MEN INTO WOODS

First Sentence Recorded in Riot Cases by Magistrate at Nanaimo Who Sentences Pasqua to Forty-Five Days in Jail

Youth Committed on Attempted Murder Charge; George Scott and John Bell Discharged by Court at Ladysmith on Participation Charges

Nanaimo, Sept. 3.—Trouble has broken out near Cumberland between the strikers and the company men, according to a report current here, which it is asserted was received from the police of the up-Island camp.

According to the story, a crowd of sixteen or seventeen men charged the pithead at No. 8 mine, some distance out of Cumberland, in the dead of night. The watchman was felled by a blow from a scuffling which hit him between the shoulders. He was able to recover himself, however, and catching up his shotgun fired both barrels at the mob. From the cries that followed the shots, it is thought that someone was wounded, but this is not certain, as the marauders withdrew into the woods and as yet no medical aid has been sought for anyone suffering from gunshot wounds.

Nanaimo, Sept. 3.—Pascua is the first man of those charged in the police court here in connection with the recent coal mine strike riots to be sentenced for the offence charged. He was yesterday sentenced to serve forty-five days in jail for committing a common assault on Frank Green, a strikebreaker at No. 1 mine of the Western Fuel Company. He has served fifteen days of the sentence while on remand. Green was on his way back to work when a mob of strikers followed him and one of them, Pasqua, threw a rock about three or four inches in diameter, which struck him on the back of the neck.

In pronouncing sentence Magistrate Simpson took the opportunity to make a few remarks concerning the situation given rise to by the riots. "It is acts such as the one you have been guilty of that have been the cause of upsetting society as well as business here," said the magistrate, addressing the prisoner. "And however responsible you may personally be from a social and financial point of view, your offence must be recognized. You knew that you were committing an unlawful act, and instead of a very light charge, you might have been facing a charge of murder. I am sorry to punish anybody, but I must take each case as it comes before me. For have been in jail 15 days already, and I sentence you to serve 30 more with hard labor."

Youth is Committed.
Ernie Morris, a seventeen-year-old boy, was committed for trial yesterday afternoon on a charge of attempted murder. Morris is an Extension lad who was on strike, and evidence was given that he fired two shots from a rifle at Percy and John John, strikebreakers. Conflicting statements were given by the prosecution witnesses, respecting the attire and appearance of the person who fired the shot, but all declared positively that they recognized Morris.

The seriousness of the trouble which took place at Extension on August 13 has not been emphasized more fully than in the evidence given in this case, witnesses stating that over 200 armed men were engaged on that day, firing at each other. Comment was freely made by those present in the court at the miracle that only the one man, Baxter, was shot.

Frank Bevan, foreman of the Canadian Collieries at Extension, swore that he saw Morris fire two shots at the John brothers at a distance of about 75 or 100 yards. Morris was inside the fence at the edge of the company's property and was with a large number of men, many of whom were armed, and there was a great deal of firing.

Had Narrow Escape.
Provincial Constable Hannay testified to having seen Morris with a rifle earlier in the day.

Percy John said the bullets fired by Morris passed so close to him that he could hear them whizz and feel the vibrations. He had a revolver himself and fired it in the air before and after the Morris shooting.

John John told of the same incident, differing from his brother only in the personal description of the man who fired the two shots. John John said he fired back at Morris.

W. H. More, another strike breaker, stated that he was armed and fired at the invading mob to kill. He saw Morris shoot also. The information charged Morris with attempting to murder John John, but Mr. Shoebottom announced that he would amend it to include Percy John's name. He said he had four or five other witnesses, but his worship committed the accused for trial without hearing further evidence. The defence volunteered no evidence.

Two Men Discharged.

At Ladysmith the defence presented by Mr. Leighton was successful in getting off two of the men charged with participating in the riots there. George Scott and John Bell succeeded in proving that their mission in the streets on the times in question were quiet and peaceable, and they were let go. Both went in the box in their own defence.

HALDANE AROUSES GERMAN CRITICISM

London, Sept. 3.—Dispatches from Berlin indicate that Lord Haldane's address before the International Bar Association at Montreal has been received in Berlin not entirely in a favorable spirit. The German press seems under the impression that Lord Haldane made his journey that of a political emissary. Several journals describe his speech as a shrewd bid by the British government for American and Canadian friendship.

DEPORTATION CASE IS STOPPED FOR APPEAL

Order Made on Claim That Woman Married to Defeat Immigration Laws.

Vancouver, Sept. 3.—The deportation of Mrs. Lillian Woodhouse, alias Roma Graham, was halted yesterday afternoon in order to allow the case to go before the court of appeal. The order staying the deportation was signed by Mr. Justice Murphy a few minutes before 4 o'clock, the hour set for her deportation. The application to stay the deportation was made by D. G. Macdonnell, K. C.

The woman, whose affairs have been given considerable publicity over the efforts of the immigration authorities to secure her expulsion from the country, came to Vancouver about two years ago and has since erected a large apartment house on Alexander street. During the progress of the proceedings before Immigration Inspector Malcolm J. Reid, she became the wife of Geoffrey Woodhouse, a British subject, and at once pleaded that she could not be deported as she by law assumed the nationality of her husband. In the proceedings in the supreme court which followed, Mr. Justice Morrison held that the marriage had been arranged in order to defeat the immigration regulations and could not be held to set aside the proceedings which had been previously commenced. He ordered that the deportation be proceeded with, and fixed 4 o'clock on the afternoon of September 2 as the hour when she was to be deported. It is against this order that the woman's lawyers will appeal to the court of appeal.

COMMISSION FOR THE GEORGIAN BAY CANAL

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 3.—The appointment of a commission to consider the practicability of the Georgian Bay canal project will be taken up shortly by the minister of public works. Heretofore the investigations have had reference wholly to the engineering features of the work and the estimate of its cost. What is now proposed is an inquiry into the economic aspect of the project and its probabilities as a profitable proposition.

IDENTIFY DEAD IN WESTMORLAND WRECK

London, Sept. 3.—Identified dead of the Midland train wreck in Westmorland are as follows: Wilhelmina Fargie, trained nurse, Glasgow; J. Patterson, accountant, Muswell Hill, London; Rebecca Traill, cat stevedore, Birmingham; Miss Wood, aged twenty, Motherwell, Scotland; Jessie Lee, aged twenty; Mariel Morrison, aged seven; S. Morrison, aged five, and John Morrison, aged three, these three being children of Mrs. Morrison, of South Sea, Hampshire, who lies dangerously injured in a hospital.

INVITED TO NEW YORK.

The Hague, Sept. 3.—An invitation sent by New York City asking the members of the inter-parliamentary council to be the guests of that city during their meetings in America in 1915, was presented at to-day's session by Richard Bartholdi, of Missouri, and was greeted with much enthusiasm.

destroyed as well as the pit head of the mine and other portions of mine property.

Robert Tate, a miner, who was the next witness, identified Sam and John Sherwood, Archie, and Isaac Greenwell, Bob Struthers, Bob Hamilton, and D. Gilmore. Tate said that the destruction was all of houses of non-strikers and that the women and children of those houses were driven into the woods. No strikers' houses were damaged.

STATE OF NEW YORK WINS IN THAW CASE

Judge Hutchison Sustains Writ for His Release From Sherbrooke Jail

MATTEAWAN FUGITIVE AT ONCE REARRESTED

Lawyers Dissatisfied at Non-Appearance of Thaw Money in Sherbrooke

MONTREAL CRIMINAL LAWYER IS ENGAGED

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 3.—Harry K. Thaw to-day lost his fight to defy deportation by remaining in the Sherbrooke jail. Judge Hutchison this afternoon sustained a writ of habeas corpus calling for his release.

As Judge Hutchison read the decision which starts Thaw back to the United States Thaw did not take his eyes off the reader. In his right hand Thaw held two little pennants of the fair which a little girl had thrust upon him. There were forty persons in the judge's chamber. The court's reading was slow, and while there were indications that he would sustain the writ, it was not until the last few paragraphs that this became positive.

The court held, briefly, that Thaw was being confined illegally and that John Boudreau, chief of police of Coaticook, the petitioner, had a right to demand the prisoner's release. Thaw remained dazed for about three minutes.

The crowd began to leave the judge's chamber in silence. Thaw followed aimlessly. As he crossed the threshold E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, tapped him on the shoulder and placed him officially under arrest as an undesirable alien.

The crowd then surged from the building and it was announced that Thaw would be taken immediately to Coaticook for a hearing.

N. K. LaPlante, of Montreal, one of the most eminent criminal lawyers in Canada, came here to-day to reinforce the Thaw lawyers.

It was reported to-day that Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of the fugitive, would soon arrive in Sherbrooke to arrange with counsel for their fees and expenses.

Some of Thaw's lawyers have again expressed dissatisfaction over the fact that no responsible head of the family has remained on the scene and that while money was talked of, no large amounts have been in evidence.

"Gentleman Roger" Thompson, chauffeur of the car that whirled Thaw away from Mattoon, was set for hearing before Magistrate Mulvena to-day, but was adjourned. Thompson is subject to a maximum fine of $500 and three months in jail.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 3.—Harry K. Thaw arrived here at 4.15 p.m.

THREW FLOWERS AT EMPEROR OF GERMANY

Berlin Police Spend Twenty-Four Hours in Feverish Investigation.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—The Berlin police completed to-day 24 hours of feverish investigation and examinations, all brought about because an American woman threw a bouquet of roses from a window of a hotel as Emperor William was passing yesterday on his way to the military manoeuvres at Temple-Of-Field. The bouquet bore a ticket inscribed "To the great German Emperor."

The police were greatly exercised because of the unusual action of the woman, who wore a placard bearing the words, "40,000 days." They promptly arrested her and required her to go to a police station and establish her identity.

She declared that her placard indicated merely her belief that the world would be changed in 40,000 days. The police declined to make her name public.

RESENTED MARRIAGE BEAT CHINESE TO DEATH

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Charles Sing, a Chinese, forty years old, owner of a restaurant on the South Side, was fatally beaten and stabbed at his home to-day and died a few hours later in a hospital. Mrs. Alice Sing, twenty-four years old, the white wife of the victim, was found unconscious by his side. She is suffering from a fractured skull and may die.

Josephine Modelski, thirty-two years old, a servant at the Sing home, was taken into custody and will be questioned by the police. After making an investigation the police expressed the opinion that the attack was made by white men living in the vicinity because of Sing's marriage to an American woman.

Some important announcements may be expected to follow the return of the party.

HOT WEATHER DAY IN CHICAGO YESTERDAY

Milwaukee and Cleveland Feel the Heat While Norfolk Gets High Wind

Chicago, Sept. 3.—One hundred degrees was registered by thermometers on the street level in Chicago yesterday. It came near being the hottest September day in the history of the weather bureau here. The official temperature, as registered on top of the federal building, however, was 97. This was a little less than the record.

In towns and cities in Missouri, Kansas and other middle west states the maximum was around 100. A lake breeze brought relief from the heat wave this morning. The thermometer dropped 15 degrees in a few hours. Yesterday was the hottest September 3 in the city's history, the thermometer reaching ninety-seven in the afternoon and hovering around the ninety-mark until early this morning when it fell to seventy-five.

There were three deaths and four prostrations yesterday.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 3.—All September heat records since the establishment of the local weather bureau were broken yesterday afternoon when 96 degrees was reached.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 3.—Tuesday was the hottest day of the summer in Cleveland. The highest official temperature was 91, while at the kiosks it was 100.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 3.—A severe northeast storm swept the Virginia, North Carolina and Maryland coasts to-day, with the wind at Cape Henry reaching a maximum of forty-eight miles an hour. The schooner Richard F. C. Hartley, which went ashore yesterday with the loss of two of her crew, broke up to-day. Captain Sprague, of Stockton Springs, Maine, and four surviving members of the crew were cared for by lifesavers. The ships of the Atlantic fleet rode the storm in safety.

SECRET INQUEST IN BAR HARBOR WRECK

Public Inquiry Friday by Interstate Commerce Commission Into Train Accident.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—The interstate commerce commission will begin a public inquiry here Friday into the cause of the wreck of the Bar Harbor express, telescoped by the White Mountain express several miles north of here with a loss of twenty-one lives. Five of those injured probably will die. The hearing will be conducted by Commissioner McChord, who has invited the public utilities commissioner of the state to sit with him.

H. W. Belnap, inspector for the commission, arrived here and served notice on President Elliott of the New Haven road that he would expect the attendance at the hearing of all witnesses who could throw light on the causes of the wreck.

Mr. Belnap denied that the New Haven had been guilty of disobeying the orders of the commission when it burned the wreckage last night. He expected that F. A. Howard, an inspector for the commission was on the scene of the wreck early yesterday and after having made an examination released the wreckage to the railroad company.

Meantime Coroner Mix will hold a secret inquest.

ROGERS HAS WAY TO PAY NATIONAL DEBT

Stanley Park, Vancouver,
Could Be Sold in Eight Years
by Government

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Hon. Robert Rogers, who has just returned from the West is greatly impressed with the possibilities of the Pacific coast. "They claim that their coastwise shipping is much in excess of that on the Atlantic seaboard," he said to-day, "and the trouble is that nothing has ever been done to improve the natural conditions. We are now remedying this state of affairs by building extensive piers, docks and breakwaters at Victoria and Vancouver and a drydock at Esquimalt."

"The Dominion government," added Mr. Rogers, "owns Stanley park and leases it to the city of Vancouver. When the eight years it has yet to run are up that property, if the government of the day chooses to sell it, will realize enough to pay the national debt of the country."

In connection with the statement of the minister of public works regarding the cost of harbor improvements, it may be noted that similar work is in progress in other parts of the country and will have cost, when completed, close to a hundred million dollars. Halifax is to have new ocean terminals and a drydock. St. John has a similar big undertaking in progress and likewise Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Vancouver and Victoria. Expenditures in connection with these works are the principal matters before the public works department at present.

AMERICANS QUESTION PROPERTY PROTECTION

Wilson and Bryan Discussing Problem Arising From Mexican Disturbances.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—With the return of President Wilson from the summer White House and the arrival of William Bayard Hale, who has been making observations in Mexico for the administration, interest in the Mexican situation was revived.

Secretary Bryan announced that no word had been received from John Lind, who still remains at Vera Cruz. Mr. Hale, who accompanied Mr. Lind from Mexico City to Vera Cruz, was said to be the bearer of personal messages to the president. Before leaving to-day for a lecture engagement, Secretary Bryan planned to go over Mexican developments of the last few days with President Wilson and discuss particularly inquiries by Americans regarding means of protection to their property if they leave Mexico.

Conferences between the president and Mr. Hale were arranged for late to-day. Mr. Bryan said that he would confer with Mr. Hale to-morrow.

EVIDENCE SLIGHT BUT GYPSIES WERE THERE

Edmonton, Sept. 3.—Capt. Simpson, who, with four of the best men of the plain clothes force, spent the night on the Hudson Bay reserve searching for further evidence in the James McNulty murder case, said this morning that they had very little to work on outside the gun-case which had been found in the vicinity. They had learned that a party of gypsies who had been encamped nearby, moved away yesterday afternoon, going north.

Government Has More Money
Soldiers and Better Trained Men Than Rebels

OFFICIAL NEWS GOES TO PRESIDENT'S YAMEN

Parliament Still Sits but Many

PLANS UNDEVELOPED WHEN UPRISING BEGAN

Peking, Sept. 3.—While civil war still prevails throughout China the general impression in Peking to-day is that the government forces will prevail, and that they will be able to suppress the uprising because the central government is possessed of more money, more troops and better trained soldiers than the other side.

How the several conflicts which have already taken place between the opposing forces have resulted cannot be accurately stated. Both sides claim glorious victories, so that the most that can be said at present is that the honors of war seem to be divided. The only reliable news that comes to Peking goes direct to the president's yamen, and goes no further. At the moment there are indications that both sides are preparing for a supreme effort, which cannot be long delayed. Should the issue favor the northern troops, the back of the rebellion will undoubtedly be broken and order should soon afterwards be restored.

It is not at all unlikely that the president will grant an amnesty to all who lay down their arms and a pardon to the leaders who surrender. The latest mandate issued by the president is more conciliatory in its tone, and in it he even goes so far as to declare that when the trouble is ended he will impeach himself "so that he may expiate his sins."

The absence of most of the foreign ministers from Peking at Pataho (the Peking summer resort) proves that the powers do not regard the situation here as grave. Both houses of parliament continue their sittings, but it is more difficult to obtain a quorum than before the outbreak, as a number of the Kuomintang party have left the capital for Shanghai so as to be more in touch with the revolutionary movement.

The moderate section of the Kuomintang, which is by no means inconsiderable, disapproves of the rebellion, believing as it does, that matters could have been adjusted by constitutional methods. The fact that the party is divided on the subject of this revolution proves that it was not a matured movement.

The spark struck by the tath of Kiangsi ignited the inflammable material in much destruction and unhappiness. That plans were not developed is shown by the fact that the arsenal at Shanghai did not go over to the rebels as was hoped and similarly the "navy" was not secured.

The fear has been expressed that this outbreak would mean the doom of parliamentary government, but there seems little justification for such a gloomy prognostication. The situation is complicated by the delay in drafting the constitution. The Kuomintang contend that the constitution should be drawn up and approved before the election of president is proceeded with.

The Chinputang, who favored the election of president before the adoption of the constitution, propose that the part of the constitution referring to the president might be approved, pending the approval of the constitution by the administration, interest in the Mexican situation was revived.

BAY RUM IN CANADA NOT THE REAL THING

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Bay rum as it is being dispensed in certain parts of Canada to-day constitutes an evasion of the law. This statement is made by Chief Analyst McGill of the department of inland revenue, in a bulletin issued to-day by the department dealing with bay rum and Florida water. Several samples secured at various points in the Dominion labelled as superior bay rum were analyzed and found to contain less than 25 per cent of alcohol. Several samples were found to be made up largely of alcohol and wood alcohol. Samples of Florida water analyzed were a mixture of methyl alcohol. While not condemned, a great many of these samples were characterized as doubtful.

SEVENTY-SIX THOUSAND TO COME FROM BERLIN

Los Angeles, Sept. 3.—That more than 2,000,000 residents of Europe will become residents of Pacific coast cities within two years after the opening of the Panama canal, was the declaration yesterday of G. M. Otis, vice-consul of Norway, on receipt of official information relative to the purchase of steamship tickets for Pacific coast cities, to be used in 1915.

The estimate of immigration for 1915 was made by Mr. Otis after he had received the information that 76,000 tickets have been purchased in Berlin alone for Pacific coast points. Those tickets, he announced, are one-way tickets and are good only during the expedition year.

COMPANY SIGNS UP SCHEDULE WITH MEN

B. C. Electric Must Find Way to Increase Revenue From Railway Department

Vancouver, Sept. 3.—At a conference between the management of the B. C. E. R. Company and committees from the various unions concerned in the agreement covering wages and working conditions, recently under consideration, which was held yesterday, the final details of the new agreement were settled and the document signed by both parties.

The agreement is to run for two years and covers the employees engaged in the operation of the company's railway department on both the mainland and the island.

In announcing that the agreement had been signed, General Manager R. H. Sperling stated that the terms of the agreement were such as make it difficult for the company to fully accept the provisions. In the interests of harmony, the general convenience of the public and for reasons of a similar nature, the company had accepted the agreement. Now that the company was bound by the new terms it would probably be necessary for its officials to find ways and means for increasing the revenues from its railway department in order that the additional financial obligations entailed by the new agreement might be met.

FIVE YEARS GIVEN MAN FOR BURGLARY

Thomas Grant Caught With Plunder Leaving Residence in Vancouver Pleads Guilty.

Vancouver, Sept. 3.—Five years in the penitentiary was the punishment given by Magistrate Shaw yesterday to Thomas Grant, who was accused of burglary. Grant was caught red-handed on Sunday evening, August 24, with his pockets laden with booty which he had taken from the home of Mrs. S. Maddison.

While a constable was patrolling his beat on Sunday evening he noticed a faint light shining at intervals through the windows of Mr. Maddison's house. He became suspicious and asked the first passerby to go and ring the front doorbell of the house while he waited at the rear of the building for his man to emerge. The constable's suspicions were correct, and at the sound of the bell the man rushed out of the back door with his hands and pockets full of valuables.

In the police court this morning Grant pleaded guilty. His previous record was read in which it was shown that he had served several years in Walla Walla, and was well known to the police on the other side of the line. On account of his bad record Magistrate Shaw thought that a stiff sentence would be advisable. Grant, who is a young man, took his sentence calmly.

TWO PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH IN COBALT FIRE

Cobalt, Sept. 3.—Fanned by a terrific wind, fire gutted an old frame building in which several people were living at the rear of J. B. Miner's lodging house on Argentine street last night. Heclave Forget, a lumberman, aged 22, was burned to death, and a Finlander may die. Frederick Roy, a young Frenchman, heroically saved his wife. Seizing her in his arms, he kicked through a pane of glass with his bare feet and jumped with her from a balcony to the ground 12 feet below. Both escaped unharmed. The body of a second victim, Thomas Mallaly, a mine hand at the O'Brien mine, was discovered to-day, and a searching party is still going over debris.

NELSON WILL KEEP OPEN CANDY STORES ON SUNDAY

Nelson, Sept. 3.—Nelson police commissioners yesterday refused the request of Rev. H. C. Huestis, Rev. E. S. Logie and Rev. R. J. McIntyre, representing the Lord's Day Alliance, to order the closing of candy and cigar stores on Sunday. Commissioners took the view that the public had as much right to buy ice cream, fruit and candy on Sunday as to purchase other refreshments at restaurants. An appeal to Attorney-General Bowser was hinted at by Huestis, who is field secretary for the alliance in the West.

THIRTEEN FAMILIES ARE BURIED UNDER RUINS

Dublin, Sept. 3.—Two houses in Church street, occupied by thirteen families, suddenly collapsed last night, burying all the inmates. Seven dead and many injured were quickly extricated by rescuers.

It is feared the death toll will be heavy, as it is reported fifty-three persons are missing. Heartrending cries came from the ruins, as many persons still alive were imprisoned in the wreckage.

Church street consists of old dilapidated tenement buildings occupied by the very poorer class.

FORTY-EIGHT FIREMEN OVERCOME BY SMOKE

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Thomas Yates, 50 years old, a cook, was burned to death and forty-eight firemen and one spectator were overcome by smoke or injured in a fire to-day which destroyed the Central hotel and an adjoining building. The fire started shortly after 11 o'clock Tuesday morning and burned until 8 o'clock this morning, eighteen hours, before the fire department succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The body of Yates was not found until to-day.

HEAVY EXPENDITURES WITHOUT AUTHORITY

Cabinet Ministers Running Up Bills for Which Money Was Not Voted

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The unauthorized expenditure of public money by cabinet ministers is getting them into trouble with the guardian of the treasury, the auditor-general. Constitutional usage and respect for the established authority of parliament are not held in any great sacredness by the Borden government, as was frequently evidenced during the last session of parliament. During the recess there have been numerous violations of the fundamental rule of responsible government, that no public expenditure can be made, except in cases of urgent necessity, unless funds have been voted by parliament. The facts will be disclosed in due course when the auditor-general's report for the current fiscal year is presented to parliament next year.

Meanwhile it is stated that a number of bills presented for expenditure made by order of some of the ministers, notably Hon. Robt. Rogers and Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, are now being held up on the ground that there has been no appropriation by parliament providing for such expenditures. It is understood that a number of contractors on public works improperly authorized are now seeking in vain to collect accounts aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars.

There are also big bills for ministerial travelling expenses this summer, which aggregate already many tens of thousands of dollars. No specific provision was made for these in the estimates passed last session. Col. Hughes' present trip to England with 23 military officers is a case in point. There will, of course, be supplementary votes asked for by the government when parliament meets to cover these "unforeseen" expenditures. The total amount of these "end-of-the-year" supplementaries is likely to be very considerably larger than ever before, and this despite the fact that the total appropriation last session jumped by over fifty millions above the previous year's high record.

MISSIONARIES PAID NATIVES TO MURDER

Statements Published in New Hebrides Newspaper Prove Startling.

Melbourne, Sept. 3.—That English Protestant missionaries in the New Hebrides Islands have employed the natives to murder Frenchmen, is the startling statement contained in the newspaper New Hebrides, published on the island, files of which have just come to hand.

The writer of the article says that the recent native outrages were the result of this policy and that the reason for them is that the missionaries hope to obtain the abolition of the condominium, which places the islands half under French and half under British rule.

The Protestants think that if the natives murder Frenchmen on every possible occasion the latter will be driven from the islands. The writer urges that all Protestant missionaries be driven out of the islands, and calls upon France to take action.

"The blood of the murdered Frenchmen cries for vengeance," says the article, "and it has been proved that the missionaries have paid the natives to commit murder."

M'REYNOLDS ATTACKS THE HARD COAL TRUST

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—Attorney-General McReynolds' first and most important attack on the "hard coal trust" was begun here yesterday with the filing of a civil suit for the dissolution of the Reading Company's control of coal mining and coal carrying railroads—the most potential combination in the anthracite fields. The Reading Company, with its subsidiary and associated corporations, including the Central railroad of New Jersey and certain of their officers and directors, are charged by the federal government with violating both the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the interstate commerce act, in an attempt to monopolize the production and transportation of anthracite.

SHUSHANNA FARE IS $100 FROM FAIRBANKS

Fairbanks, Alaska, Sept. 3.—The river steamer White Seal left yesterday for Shushanna with thirty-three passengers and thirty-five tons of freight. The passenger fare is $100 and the freight rate $250 a ton. The White Seal is taking a two-kilowatt wireless plant which was formerly at Kaltaga. The wireless plant will be erected at Shushanna and will work with the radio station at Eagle.

INSANE MAN ATTACKS CHILDREN AT SCHOOL

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—An insane man dashed into the playground of a suburban school yesterday and terrorized a score of boys whom he attacked. Leon Gaston was felled by a blow that broke his nose and lacerated his face. Marcel McCarthy, who also was knocked down, fainted. Screams of the frightened lads finally caused the man to run away. The police have been unable to find him.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS TELL OF SMUGGLING

Indictments Returned Against Fourteen by San Francisco
Grand Jury

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—Ten former guards in the customs service in San Francisco, two civilians and two Chinese were indicted to-day by the federal grand jury on charges of smuggling opium.

The confessions of former officers of the customs service that were told to the grand jury, brought to light the existence of a ring of smugglers, who, for the most part, were government employees, which brought thousands of dollars' worth of the drug into this country during the long period the ring has been operating here.

The indictments were voted upon evidence presented before the grand jury by Surveyor of the Port Justus S. Wardell, C. F. May, a former ship's carpenter on the liner Korea, and former customs guards Frederick Libby, A. G. Reay and John Gough. The testimony of Gough and Reay were simply confessions in which they related in detail the methods pursued by the ring and in which they told the names of its members.

Although no indictments were returned against these two with the others the fact that they have turned state's evidence will be considered when the cases are called to trial, according to statements to-night.

No estimate has been placed upon the amount or value of the opium that has been smuggled into the country by members of the ring. Reay and Gough told the grand jury, however, that guards who carried opium ashore from the Oriental liners made a premium of from $5 to $6 a tin, and the price of opium in Chinatown, it is stated, is normally $40 a tin.

Disclosures concerning the opium ring have had a direct effect upon this price, for it was stated that the price for a five-tin tin has soared to nearly $100.

According to confessions, A. J. Taylor, who, as one of the heads of the organization, demanded and received a third of the profits of the traffic. He used an automobile to carry the contraband from caches near the piers where liners from the Orient berthed. He conveyed the opium from these hiding places into Chinatown, where it was distributed by Chinese members of the organization.

LARGE STEAMSHIPS TO RUN OUT OF THE GATE

Coast Head Office of Royal Mail Steampacket Will Be Opened at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—E. J. M. Nash, American representative of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, a British corporation, announced here to-day that San Francisco had been selected as the Pacific coast headquarters and terminus of the line. Nine large steamships, he said, were being especially constructed for the route to result from the opening of the Panama canal. The new vessels, each of 16,000 tons, will be ready next year.

"Every trade route virtually will be changed by the canal," said Mr. Nash. "The greatest change will come in the handling of freight from Europe to the United States. Each of the new steamships to be run to this port will have accommodations for 500 first-class passengers, 250 second-class and 1,000 third-class."

INJURED AT NIGHT FLIGHT IN FRANCE

Rheims, France, Sept. 3.—Lieut. Paul Lefrance of the French naval flying corps, and his passenger, Mme. Lefrance, wife of French artillery lieutenant, were fatally injured in an aeroplane accident near here last night.

Lieut. Lefrance was preparing to alight near the village of Bouy, after a short flight, when his machine capsized. The fuel tank was broken and its contents caught fire. The flames attracted villagers, who found the two aviators unconscious in the wreckage and suffering from serious burns. They were taken to a hospital, but their condition is hopeless.

LAWYERS ENDORSE POLICY ON MEXICO

Ex-President Taft Heard in Montreal Convention on Tenure of Judges

Montreal, Sept. 3.—The president of the United States, the ex-president and former candidate for the presidency, figured yesterday by name for actual presence in the proceedings of the American Bar Association's annual meeting. The association adopted a resolution endorsing President Wilson's action in regard to Mexico.

Ex-President Taft addressed the members, advocating greater independence of the judiciary. Judge Alton B. Parker, Democratic candidate for president in 1904, proposed a resolution, unanimously adopted, for the approval of the celebration of a century of peace between the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Taft's address, delivered at Royal Victoria College, was the event of the evening. His address was "The Selection and Tenure of Judges." At the business session the association received and adopted reports from a score of standing special committees.

Walter Q. Smith, of Philadelphia, in an address in the afternoon before the legal education section, declared that there had been a revolution of sentiment in regard to the proper preparation for admission to the bar. "Office education," he said, "has given place to that of law schools, whose courses are subject to constant improvement as experience shows their defects."

Clarence A. Lightner, of the Michigan Bar, urged the need of more complete inquiry into the moral character of applicants for admission to the bar.

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on ten of the visitors on Monday at McGill University, which has never before held such a distinguished gathering.

The convocation hall was crowded to the doors. Those on the platform included Lord Chancellor Haldane, Lord Strathcona, Chief Justice White, ex-President Taft, Premier Borden, Hon. C. J. Doherty and other prominent men.

As the registrar and principal of the university entered, the gathering rose, and when it was perceived that both Sir William Macdonald and Lord Strathcona, the chancellor of the university, were present for the convocation, there was a burst of applause that did not diminish as one after another of the visitors of international reputation appeared on the platform.

After prayer by Professor John F. McNaughton, Lord Strathcona announced his great pleasure in joining his colleagues in extending a cordial welcome to the Bar Association.

Eugene Lafleur, K.C., then arose, and after announcing the unavoidable absence of the distinguished French jurist, Maitre Labori, who was confined to his room with a sprained ankle, asked that the degree be granted in absentia, which, accordingly, was done. This was also the case with Senator Elihu Root, after Judge Archibald had spoken briefly of the splendid achievement which had earned him a long list of distinctions at home and abroad.

Premier Borden was introduced by Chief Justice Davidson. Ex-President Taft had evidently lost none of his popularity with the American visitors present and was received with an outburst of applause. Mr. Archibald McGoun, K.C., spoke of the high place held by the ex-president in the hearts of the Canadian people, and though they had not always seen eye to eye with him on the question of reciprocity they had not failed to appreciate the offer in the spirit in which it had been made.

R. C. Smith, K.C., introduced the Hon. Joseph Choate, for six years ambassador to the Court of St. James and a world-renowned orator and writer.

Judge Parker, a former candidate for the presidency of the United States, was introduced by Aime Geoffrion, K.C., and the Hon. C. J. Doherty by P. B. McGinlay, K.C., who spoke in high terms of the industry, integrity and intellect of the minister of justice. The last to receive the degree was Frank B. Kellogg, president of the American Bar Association, who was introduced by Chief Justice Davidson.

ALL TRACES OF NEW HAVEN WRECK VANISH

Investigating Commission's Orders to Leave Scene Undisturbed Are Ignored.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—The death list in the Wallingford wreck stands at twenty-one, and the hospital list at seventeen. The railroad employees who played the leading parts in the New Haven tragedy were under detention by the coroner's order.

Meanwhile the machinery of the usual county, state and federal investigation was in motion. Coroner Mix and Chief Engineer Elwell, of the state public utilities commission, resumed this morning the second investigation, which they began yesterday jointly with the railroad company.

The interstate commerce commission investigators on their arrival found practically no vestige of the wreck along the New Haven right-of-way. Notwithstanding telegraphic orders from the commission that the wreckage be undisturbed, officials of the road set gangs of men clearing up the roadbed after the crash.

The two near Pullmans of the Bar Harbor train, where nearly all the loss of life occurred, were reduced to splinters by the crash. The wreckage was burned last night. The damaged locomotive was hauled away with the remains of the third Pullman.

SUMMONED FROM PICNIC TO BROTHER'S DEATHBED

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—John Rhea Barton Willing, millionaire clubman of this city, and brother of Mrs. John J. Astor, died at the Jefferson hospital here yesterday of diphtheria.

Forty-eight hours ago he walked to that institution to see one of his friends, and while there told a physician that he was suffering from sore throat. He was found to be suffering from diphtheria, and an immunizing dose of diphtheria antitoxin was administered. Within a few hours he grew worse rapidly and every effort was made to save his life. Ninety-five thousand units, a heroic dose, was given, but he died yesterday from the effects of the disease.

Mrs. J. J. Astor was summoned from a picnic which had been organized for her guest, Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, at Newport.

WOMAN DRUGGED PRINCE.

Venice, Sept. 3.—While Prince Oranoff, an attaché of the Russian embassy at Vienna, was travelling on the Vienna express, a woman, who was a passenger on the car, drugged him and stole a diamond ring, worth $8,000. The ring was an heirloom, having been an imperial gift to his ancestors. The woman has disappeared and the police are baffled by the case.

NOME DROUGHT BROKEN.

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 3.—Heavy rains which have been falling throughout the peninsula district since Sunday have broken the long drought which caused a great reduction of the gold output this season. Because of the shortage of water sluicing operations were almost entirely suspended all summer, but water began to flow in the streams yesterday, and all the available men were put to work to take advantage of the fast closing season.

ACUTE STRIKE IN DUBLIN.

Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 3.—The strike situation here was rendered more acute to-day by a lockout in the coal trade. The merchants at a meeting decided that they would no longer employ men belonging to the transport workers' union, which will not permit its members to deliver the coal of certain firms.

WHY DENOUNCE TREATY?

In his letter to the Washington State Fish Commissioner, quoted in a telegram from Bellingham Bay, Mr. Bowser intimates that the change in the Canadian regulations, whereby the sockeye open season is extended until September 15, presages the denunciation of the treaty respecting fishing in international waters. If Mr. Bowser's letter is correctly quoted in the dispatch, he would seem to have been exercising an authority vested only in the Dominion Minister of Fisheries. But that aside, would it be well to denounce the treaty, which is all right? It is the regulations made under the treaty, which before becoming effective must be approved by Canada and the United States, with which we are concerned. The regulations agreed to by Commissioners Jordan and Prince were approved by Canada but not by the United States, and therefore did not become law in either country. Would it not be better to continue the treaty, which is practically a nullity without regulations, and make another effort to secure proper regulations under and by the authority it provides? The United States Senate does not always do the wrong thing in international affairs. In the meantime Canada continues to regulate her fisheries as she sees fit.

A DECADE OF PROSPERITY?

When Harry Thaw was nabbed by the Canadian police, striking tributes to our laws emanated from the New York newspapers, which expressed confidence that the Pittsburgh millions would be of little avail in this country. But they have now begun to modify their views. They foresee a legal campaign here that will take as long as it took Grant to reduce the half-starved remnant of Lee's army to submission at Richmond. Thus says the New York Post:

"Canada, with Thaw, begins a decade of great prosperity. We say a decade, because Canadian legal procedure thus far has shown itself so startlingly like our own that we are safe in supposing it will be ten years before the question of Mr. Thaw's deportation is decided. Already the legal profession and the allied profession of criminal psychiatry are booming. In Canadian private-detective circles an exceptional harvest is confidently predicted. The suggestion that Mr. Thaw become a Canadian land-owner in order to frustrate deportation has mobilized an army of real estate agents who have been idle since the slackening of the boom in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Because of Mr. Thaw's announced intention to enter upon a campaign of publicity, the leading Canadian newspapers have placed orders for additional sextuple presses. One can only touch upon the fertilizing influence of the Thaw money in the minor industries—the moving-picture industry, the fall-delivery industry, the automobile industry, the florist industry, which would never be what it is if assassins and degenerates were not to have their cells brightened with a daily bunch of sweet peas. How Mr. Lloyd George must be wishing himself to be Canadian Chancellor of the Exchequer with power to clap a super-tax on all incomes derived from Thaw!"

The Post, of course, is drawing upon a vivid imagination, but the proceedings at Sherbrooke lend some color of justification to its persiflage. They are little less than a burlesque. Thaw is held on a commitment that is admittedly defective. At first his lawyers desired to have him freed on a writ of habeas corpus, and he certainly would have been freed if the writ came before a judge. Then they discovered that as soon as he left jail he would be grabbed by the Canadian immigration authorities and deported as an undesirable. At once they started on another tack. They obtained a discontinuance of the writ issued at their instigation, and are bending their energies towards keeping the fugitive in jail. But anybody can obtain the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus, and the forces of Jerome have done so.

Their purpose is to have Thaw liberated so that the immigration authorities of Canada can get their hands on him. Thus is presented the strange spectacle of the fugitive's counsel fighting to keep him in jail as long as possible, while those who are after him want him liberated.

And so long as Thaw is in jail the Canadian immigration authorities are helpless. Surely the law is a wondrous proposition. Here is an undesirable who under the immigration law can be deported immune from its operation for the time being although held under an improper commitment. Ultimately, however, he will fall into the hands of the immigration officials, who should deport him without delay. Jerome says New York state wants Thaw back because it does not wish the world to think that there a man with millions behind him can do as he pleases. Certainly we do not wish that impression to go abroad with regard to Canada.

NATIONAL SPIRIT.

The Ottawa Citizen (Conservative) utters a strong appeal for the cultivation of the spirit of Canadianism. "Why not start now," it asks, "to create the Canadian spirit in the hearts of her own sons? Why not find Canadian soil a resting-place for pride of birth? Why regard any part of the broad earth as more sacred or more worthy of veneration than that which comprises Canada? The time has arrived when Canada must come to the realization of herself, and when every Canadian must find pride, and loyalty, and inspiration, in the fact that he is Canadian."

The Citizen is right. The strength of Canada's position in the Empire depends upon the strength of her national spirit. It is as natural for her to grow in this direction as it is for her children to evolve into men and women. If we interfere with that law by attempting to revert to conditions that obtained seventy years ago, we will lay up a store of trouble for ourselves. The creation of a Canadian spirit is the key to the future of the country. In no other way can we unify our increasingly diverse immigration. But we cannot make the newcomers find "pride, loyalty and inspiration in the fact that they are Canadians," if when they come here they hear our public men belittling Canadian capacity and integrity. Nothing can be more damaging to the Dominion's future welfare than the declarations in high places and the party press that we are incapable of building a navy within "perhaps a quarter or half a century," or that "if they had a navy Canadians would graft." We cannot develop the national spirit by paying others to defend us at sea, and we cannot maintain it by surrendering any of those powers of self-government which have come down to us through the years.

Last year 492,000 people came to this country. Of these 150,000 were British, 139,000 American and 112,000 came from other countries. Henceforth Canada will be their home. Its development and welfare should have the first place in their aspirations. We want them to feel that they are playing a part in the upbuilding of a nation whose status is that of partnership in the Empire, not subordination. Such are the ideals Australia and New Zealand have in view. Each has set to work to create the national spirit with a distinctive type of citizenship of its own. And every stride the dominions have made along this route has strengthened the Imperial tie.

TECHNICAL TRAINING.

At Toronto a few days ago Mr. Borden laid the corner stone of a new technical school, and in the course of his remarks declared that "no nation can hold its own in the great competitive struggle unless its people have the advantages of the highest and best training." Wise words, but why not put them into practice? One of the ablest commissions ever appointed by the federal government presented a report last spring after an exhaustive inquiry, which covered the most progressive countries of the world, embodying a plan for the furthering of a system of technical training throughout Canada. A recent announcement from Ottawa, emanating, it is understood, from the Minister of Labor, states that the report is to be shelved.

The commission, under the chairmanship of Dr. J. W. Robertson, and including a capable representative of organized labor, was appointed by the late administration, being immediately responsible to the Minister of Labor, who at that time was Hon. Mackenzie King. It really originated with the labor unions, which had frequently memorialized the government on the subject. Its appointment was supported by both sides of the house and it was believed at the time that a practical scheme of technical training in Canada would be the outcome. Now the commission has done its part, but its labors seem to have been in vain. Apparently, the Minister of Labor does not wish to have anything to do with a movement, no matter how excellent, which came into being under the old regime. We wonder if this logic enables us to draw the conclusion that the reason why he does not settle strikes is that his predecessor did not with conspicuous success?

Here is an opportunity for Mr. Borden to give the country some real statesmanship, something, to use his own words, that will enable this country to hold its own in the great competitive struggle. The excuse that the scheme recommended by the commission would be an infringement upon provincial rights is out of court because the government's agricultural and measure of last session is upon lines identical with the suggestions of Dr. Robertson and his colleagues. It would not be as spectacular, perhaps, as the big drum and banneted militarism of Colonel Sam Hughes, but it would be a much more vital factor in real Canadian progress. It would give that practical bent to our educational system which it now very seriously lacks.

DESERVING OF RECOGNITION.

With real pleasure the Times observes that a movement is on foot to secure some tangible recognition of the services Mr. Thomas Sorby has rendered the city by reason of his long-continued activity and persistence in the cause of harbor improvement. The secretary of the Inner Harbor Association has labored hard to secure the deepening of the inner harbor in order that it might be placed in a position to accommodate the rapidly increasing shipping of the port. The work that has already been accomplished is in no small measure due to Mr. Sorby's assiduity in calling the attention of the proper authorities to the necessities of the case. Although the scheme that has eventually been adopted for general harbor improvement differs somewhat in form from the designs submitted by Mr. Sorby, there can be no gainsaying the fact that his exertions played a not inconsiderable part in shaping the policy at present being carried out. Consequently we are pleased to see that the business interests of the city and the city council are uniting in calling attention of a higher authority to the good and hitherto practically unrecognized work Mr. Sorby has done, and cherish the hope that at last some substantial grant will be accorded him for his services.

"I don't like Austria rattling my sword," the Kaiser is reported to have remarked recently. Austria and Russia are anxious for a revision of the treaty of Bucharest, each having selfish purposes in view. Great Britain, Germany and France, on the other hand, are determined that there shall be no revision, as they realize that such an overhauling of the treaty may involve a European war. The Kaiser has unmistakably placed himself on record in this connection in his message to the King of Roumania, and Sir Edward Grey in his recent speech in the House of Commons clearly defined Britain's position. A combination of Britain, France and Germany is unusual these days, but it is a hopeful augury. It shows, however, that there is a slight rift in the Triple Alliance.

Three million dollars worth of silk was transferred from the Empress of Asia to the Canadian Pacific railway trains at Vancouver. It is now en route to New York, where doubtless it will be shipped aboard the fast trans-Atlantic vessels to the big European temples of fashion. It would be interesting to follow the processes through which that costly cargo will pass, but only the pen of the expert can adequately do justice to the theme. How much of that product of the opulent Orient will grace the fair forms of the fashion devotees in Rotten Row, Champs Elysees and Fifth Avenue? Into what fearful and wonderful creations will it find its way?

Poisoning horses in order to control trade. That is the charge on which a very wealthy New York dealer has been arrested. We have heard of dumping fruit and other commodities into the sea for the purpose of keeping up prices, and that not very far from Victoria, but did not think any combine would go the length of resorting to poison for the purpose of maintaining extortionate prices.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway seems to be the most unfortunate concern in the world. Either that or the worst managed. It has had two very bad accidents within the space of a few months. To be sure there was a terrible catastrophe on the Midland Railway of England yesterday also, but that was an unusual occurrence, whereas accidents on railroads in the United States are not at all unusual.

With what fine scorn must the Attorney-General have read the San Francisco Examiner's reference to Sir Richard McBride as one who comes from the breed which knelt behind the rail fences at Bunker Hill and fought at Appomattox, the Alamo, etc. Why, Colonel McBride has never even fought in a sham-fight, whereas he—well, Napoleon is credited with winning some sixty pitched battles.

Another unworthy blow at the equine friend of man which has rendered such signal service right down through the ages. A motor hearse has made its appearance in Toronto, of all places in the universe. Toronto, which has hitherto erto specially plumed itself on the dignity and seamliness of its funerals. Now if the motor hearse had appeared in New York, where the dead are rushed off to the cemetery in such a manner as to indicate resentment of the mourners at an inconvenient interruption to business, we should have thought little of it. But it is hardly creditable that Toronto should tolerate such an innovation.

The Toronto News says it is impossible for anyone to feel ill at ease for any length of time in the presence of Premier Borden. And it is also impossible for anyone, particularly if he be a Conservative, to feel at ease for any length of time when Premier Borden is striving with all his might to make a speech.

Lord Haldane seems to have made a distinctly good impression in both Canada and the United States. Which is not unusual when British statesmen of the first class cross the Atlantic and make speeches.

A Mexican patriot writes to say that the world is entirely mistaken in its estimation of Huerta. In that case the humane man has good grounds for action against photographers who produced his pictures.

A BRILLIANT FAMILY.

(London Daily News.) Following his distinguished father, the premier, and his brother, Mr. Raymond Asquith, Mr. Cyril Asquith has added to his brilliant scholastic record at Oxford by taking a first in classical greats.

Mr. Cyril Asquith, in 1900, went from Winchester to Balliol, his father's old college, with the Goddard scholarship. In April, 1911, he was at the head of the classical moderations honors list. In June the same year he won the Herford scholarship, and in December he achieved the blue ribbon of Oxford, the Ireland and Craven scholarships.

Mr. Asquith won a scholarship at Balliol in 1900; Mr. Raymond won an exhibition in 1907; Mr. Cyril a scholarship in 1908. The premier took a first in "Modus" in 1902; Mr. Raymond Asquith in 1909; Mr. Cyril in 1911. The premier won the Craven scholarship in 1904; Mr. Raymond in 1908; Mr. Cyril in 1911. The premier took a first in Greats in 1874; Mr. Raymond in 1900; Mr. Cyril in 1912.

The prime minister was elected to a fellowship at Balliol in 1874; Mr. Raymond to one at All Souls in 1900; whether Mr. Cyril will achieve this further distinction remains to be seen.

Mr. Raymond Asquith, who is now in successful practice at the bar, was president of the union, and carried off the Eldon law scholarship.

WIDOWS IN DEMAND?

The London Gazette says: "Meanwhile New South Wales is giving Canada a hint. We read that twenty widows with one child each are being invited to sail for New South Wales in October to take up domestic work, the money for the journey being advanced by a practical Imperialist who wishes to remain anonymous. They must not be more than thirty-five years of age, must have their husbands' death certificates, and must be healthy and of good character." Thanks, very much, but Canada has all the widows she wants, and some to spare.

OUR WORK IS AT HOME.

(Toronto Star.) There is nothing narrow or parochial in the idea that a man does his best work by attending to the duty that lies nearest at hand. We cannot hope, except indirectly, to settle the affairs of Europe, but we can do a good deal to improve the conditions of North America; and our work done right here will be just as beneficial to the world at large as if we were worrying over the quarrels of Serbia and Bulgaria, and the possible clash of the Teuton and Slav.

Majestic Theatre.—A strong programme in all departments will be shown at the Majestic theatre to-day and Thursday. "The House of Mystery." An exciting detective story of a gang of pick-pockets and a girl who drops into their life because her fiancé happens to buy her a hat like those worn by the women of the gang. An ingenious touch is an approach to the thieves' house through a phone booth in the store next door. This picture is interesting in its situation, with a climax effective in accumulated excitement. "A Letter to Uncle Sam." A light and playful fancy runs through this pleasing little story of a child who lives near one of Uncle Sam's big forts. The big guns shook her doll off the table and it was broken, so she wrote to "Uncle Sam" and her loss was properly investigated and atoned for. "Sufragette Minstrels" and "Father's Chicken Dinner" are two laugh-provoking comedies.

Miss Verna Felton and the Allen Players will make a welcome return to Victoria on Monday the 8th when they open a short engagement at the Victoria Theatre. The opening bill will be the great present day drama, "The Spendthrift," which scored a big hit in New York last season. The story is that of a spendthrift wife who through her thoughtless butterfly habits neglects her duties as a wife and ruins her husband and in the end develops into a true wife who is willing to give her life to the man she loves. In the leading role Miss Felton has a part which she plays to perfection. Miss Felton is ably supported by the Allen Players amongst whom are several who are well known to Victoria audiences.

To Start Excavating.—Excavation work on the site of the new department store the Hudson's Bay Company is to begin within a few days by Luney Brothers, who have the excavation contract.

All Routine Business.—The principal item of business at a curtailed meeting of the Esquimalt council last evening was the report of the finance committee relating to the passing of the month's accounts for payment. The business transacted was all of a routine nature.

Replacing Eighteen Bluejackets.—To relieve a similar number of bluejackets on H. M. S. Shearwater and H. M. S. Albatross, eighteen sailors arrived yesterday in Victoria for service in these waters. The time of all the men leaving the two battle vessels has expired.

A Double Charge.—The Victoria Truck and Dray Company protests through E. E. Wootton to the double payment on vehicles owned by the company through the levies established under two by-laws, holding that only one tax should be imposed. The city solicitor will report on the legal points of the matter.

Suggests Arrangement.—In view of the passage of a by-law by the Saanich municipality to control the inspection of electric wiring, the city council has been asked to allow the city inspectors to carry out inspection in that district at suitable remuneration. The subject will be favorably considered, if the council finds that it can be legally carried out.

Preparing for Election.—Ward IV. ratepayers of Saanich are already commencing to think of the next election, and at the next meeting to be held on Monday at Colquhoun hall at 8 p. m. nominations will be received for candidates for the council and school board. The paving question, sewer and water subjects and tramway facilities will be up for discussion.

Recognition of Services.—Following a letter from the mayor the city council last evening decided to support a memorial to the Dominion government for recognition of the services of Thomas C. Sorby, C. E., secretary of the Inner Harbor Association, in connection with the improvements of the port. Several members referred to Mr. Sorby's continued work in the interests of harbor improvement.

Board of Trade Meeting.—The Board of Trade monthly meeting is scheduled for Thursday week, September 11. As yet there is no business of sufficient importance to warrant the meeting being called, but it is not yet too late for the bringing up of matter which will necessitate the step. Any having such business should communicate at once with the secretary of the board.

Made-In-Victoria Exhibit.—The committee in charge of the Made-In-Victoria Exhibit which will be one of the great features at the fall fair, is anxious to complete arrangements for the establishment of the exhibit and to prevent disappointment in applications for space all firms who have not already received allotments should apply at once. Applications should be made early to George Sangster, secretary of the Agricultural Association.

Equipment Building.—The cost of building permits in the district municipality of Esquimalt during August was $9,500, while for the whole eight months since January 1, the total reached $292,200.

Threatens Proceedings.—Not satisfied with the position over the Fairfield road widening compensation cases, A. S. Dumbleton, acting on behalf of J. R. Phillips, threatens proceedings unless an arrangement is made. The city solicitor will endeavor to reach some settlement.

Vagrant Gets Temporary Home.—Edward Scott, arrested by Sergeant Harper early this morning as a vagrant, pleaded guilty and was sent to jail for three months. He is an elderly man without home or friends and this will give him food and shelter for the time.

Light is Given.—The protest of Magistrate Jay yesterday against the inadequate lighting of the police court room was headed and to-day the bench was visible in a blaze of light. A chandelier with two lights enclosed in ground glass globes now hangs over the desk of the magistrate and he will no longer have to strain his eyes to read or write on a day when the skies lower outside.

Leave the City.—Glenroy Chunes was arrested last night by Detectives Turner and Siciliano on a charge of being a vagrant, and this morning he was turned up to the truth of the charge. He was given a chance to leave town and the island this afternoon. The two women who yesterday pleaded guilty to being inmates of a disorderly house and were allowed to go for the same reason left for Seattle. The city is thus relieved of the presence of these people and of the expense had they been given jail sentences.

Attacks on Chinese.—The police court this morning might have been a Chinese hospital, to judge from the number of injured present. There were three men who had been hurt in one way or another. One had both hands bound up and an arm in a sling, another had two black eyes and a third, Lim On, had large strips of court-plaster across the bridge of his nose. Yung Chung was in the dock accused of causing actual bodily harm to the latter, and Frank Higgins, who was instructed just before court opened, appeared for the prosecution. By consent the charge was altered to one of causing grievous bodily harm, but when Lim On glided into view from the back of the room everybody could see that the reduction to a charge of common assault was warranted. Lim On, a most woebegone expression and limp attitude for the benefit of the court, and might have been on the point of death had he not just before walked up with a very healthy stride. He will be given an opportunity tomorrow to tell the magistrate all about it and meanwhile Yung Chung is out on cash bail in $50.

Word has been received in Victoria to the effect that Sir George Doughty, president of the British Columbia Fisheries, who was very recently a visitor in this city, has just undergone a very serious operation in New York. Arriving at the American metropolis from the West late last month it was his intention to sail for England immediately, but the railroad journey had aggravated his complaint and the operation had to be performed immediately in his hotel.

It is understood, that Sir George, who is 65 years of age, is progressing favorably.

IT'S TEAM WORK THAT COUNTS!

Manufacturers are absolutely dependent on retailers for the consumer sale of their goods.

Retailers must have the manufactured products—and must have consumers to use them.

Manufacturer, retailer and consumer are three links in the golden chain of commerce that circles the world.

The retailer finds his most efficient and most economical shortcut to the consumer through advertising in the daily newspaper.

Retailers are ready to push those nationally distributed products advertised in their home newspapers—because the demand is made right here at home.

Manufacturer and retailer linked together in a definite newspaper campaign form a team that scores new records on the sales totals.

Retailers are urged to impress on manufacturers the advantage of co-operative advertising in papers like THE TIMES.

Merchants and manufacturers interested in local advertising for nationally distributed articles are invited to write to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers' Association, World Building, New York.

WILL HONOR CHARLIE SWAIN FOR HIS HOME-RUN RECORD

Diamond Locket for Bee Out-fielder; Changes Due in Local Club; Draft Season Next Week

While Victoria will not have the joy of capturing the Northwestern pennant for the 1913 season, there is at least one consolation left the local fans and that is the fact that amongst the Bees there is one record-holder in the person of Charlie Swain, the former Sacramento fielder, who has clouted out twenty-nine home runs to date and who now holds the Northwestern record for four-base wallops. A proposal has been made to honor Swain for his remarkable hitting by a suitable souvenir of his feat. A subscription list is to be opened towards getting Swain a diamond-studded locket, suitably inscribed, to commemorate the achievement which has brought his name so prominently before all those interested in baseball. Jack O'Brien, of the Two Jacks, will open a list in his Government street "dope" shop, and the management of the Victoria baseball club will be asked to co-operate in having a big presentation when the team returns home from its present road trip.

Changes in Team.
Secretary McConnell announces that deals are now under way that will bring about a decided shakeup in the Bees. The team did not display enough interest in several of the games with Spokane last week to suit the management, and there is sure to be several changes before the club returns home. Another good right-handed twirler is being sought, while there may be an infield shift that will certainly speed up the Victoria infield. There has been a number of infield hits chalked up against the Victoria twirlers, and it should never have been recorded and as some of the heavy hitters slumped fearfully last week, the management will try another style for their final sprint after that third place berth. A trade with the Seattle club is rumored, together with a deal with Portland.

To be exact, the National and American League clubs have from September 15 to 20 for drafting privileges. The cream of the minors can be claimed. The minors are protected in that only one draft is put in, then the clubs draw lots to see which player can be claimed. It costs $2,500 to draft a class double A player, and naturally a major league manager will carefully look up a player before he files claim.

The most-sought-after of all the coasters are Johnny Williams, the Sacramento pitcher, and Ty Lober, the Portland outfielder. Both are young and a dozen or so clubs are after them. Managers Wolfson and McCredie have announced that they will not sell, but will run the risk of having the stars drafted.

Jimmy Johnson, of San Francisco, and Earl Maggart, of Los Angeles, are certain to be given another trial in the big show. Comisky will take both, by

OAK BAY TEAM AWARDED DATES

Island Lacrosse Champions Will Play for Mann Cup on Sept. 20 and 24

Oak Bay, champions of the Island Lacrosse League, have been awarded dates for their Mann cup games with the Vancouver Lacrosse Club. Secretary Joe Lally, of the Mann cup trustees, has wired Manager C. Toughy, of the Oak Bay Club, to have his team at Vancouver for the cup games on September 20 and 24. This announcement will come as a surprise, as it was not known that the Oak Bay management contemplated challenging for the Mann cup. However, the local title holders have secured dates for the silverware and will probably line up against V. A. C. for the cup.

Oak Bay will be minus Allan Clarke and will have to move Percy Beasley back to the nets. This club has won six of the last seven games this season, one of the latter being a defaulted league fixture to Sidney. It is reported that the V. A. C. twelve will have Punch Burns and Feilheiler back on the team which will make their line-up much stronger than formerly. The Oak Bay Club will get down to practice at once for the cup games.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—Several challenges for the Mann cup are already in the hands of the trustees, and it is expected that several more will be received. A team from Armstrong, B. C., were the first challengers, and games will be arranged within a few days. The Young Conservative Club of Winnipeg also have challenged, and will get a chance after the games with the Armstrong Club. The winners of the O. A. L. A., either Brampton or Almonte, are certain to go after the cup, and those who have seen their team play do not hesitate to say that they would make a good showing. There are also teams in Regina and Calgary which will undoubtedly challenge, so that it can be seen that the holders will have a busy time.

INMAN AGAIN WON BILLIARD HANDICAP

Conceding 600 points to Fred Pye, at the Westholme Parlors last night, Melbourne Inman, defeat a large crowd with his finished display of billiards, the champion running the necessary 1,000 to capture the match while his opponent scored 132. The match was one of the best that has ever been witnessed in the capital, Inman being in rare form throughout. His handling of the cue was perfect, his highest run being an effort of 174, which included a number of marvellous shots. He also had runs of 137, 131, 100 and 89, he scoring in remarkably quick fashion. He wound up his 1,000 with an unfinished run of 67. Inman leaves for Vancouver to-day, but may return to the capital before his departure for England, the latter part of this month.

LADY TITLE-HOLDER.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Sept. 3.—In the final of the ladies' championship lawn tennis tournament here, Mrs. Robert Williams, of Philadelphia, defeated Miss Mary Browne, of Los Angeles, the American national champion, 8-6, 2-6, 6-4.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Bees Are Finishing Strong Against Indians.
Spokane is finding this Victoria ball club, crippled and all, a far different proposition from the Seattle and Tacoma clubs which they have been trampling all over in the past three weeks. Victoria took the first game from the Indians and deserved two more, besides yesterday's contest, so that the Bees are doing pretty fairly against a team that is composed of Coast Leaguers. Mike Lynch was given a free hand and a large bank roll to get his team together, so that he is not to be wondered at that his club is winning. Victoria, however, will be able to present a much stronger front from now on for Crum is in uniform once more, while Zimmerman will rejoin the club next week. The hitters are showing signs of recovering from their slump and once the wrecking crew get on this week's series and at Spokane should be able to do just as well. That will leave the teams in just about the same position as they were when they first clashed a week ago.

Vancouver Can Lay Claim to the Pennant.
They can talk of Mike Lynch's fine chances all they like, but we are pretty sure of the gonfalon prospects of one Robert Brown of Vancouver. The sorrel-topped leader of the Beavers has the flag just about packed away, and it will take a whole lot better team than Portland to wrest the honors away from Brown. The Indians haven't a chance for the championship, while Seattle is a hopeless case. That puts it up to the Bees or Spokane and both of these clubs are too far in arrears to commence to overhaul the Terminal aggregation. Brown is fortunate in recovering from that slump of his before the teams right now are playing the best ball of any on the circuit. Bert Delmas will be a whole lot more dangerous when he gets Zimmerman back in the outfield, while Narveson, Kanteleiner and Pitchner are as good as a trio of slab artists as there are in the league to-day. The Bees have experienced a batting slump, but once that has passed over, they will start winning right along.

Will the Eastern Challengers Lift the Cup?
It has been announced that the Irish-Canadians will come to the Coast in quest of the Minto cup and it is up to the officers of the New Westminster Lacrosse Club, present holders of the trophy, to see that their team is in shape to defend the mug. The Royals will be seriously handicapped because of the break-up of the Coast league in July and while they have had a few games since, they have not had the tough battles with the Vancouver team to keep them in shape. It would be a good idea if the management of the Royals picked up a team of the pro. players on the Coast to give the Royals the necessary practice and not depend too much upon the ordinary practices. The Westminster players dropped an easy game to the Vancouver Athletic Club twelve because of their poor condition and they should take warning before it is too late. G. G. Kennedy has a well-balanced team, comprising a fast, shifty home that is by far the best that has been gathered together in the east for some years. They are a team of veterans and most of the twelve came west with the Montreal club that was beaten in two tough games three years ago. The Big Four champions are confident of lifting the cup, but the Royals are still favorites for the big series.

MANY CUPS FOR THE VICTORIA SHOW

Kennel Club Plans Extensive Exhibit at Willows During Fair Week

Over thirty trophies have been donated for the annual bench show of the Victoria Kennel Club, which will be held at the Willows in connection with the fall fair on September 24, 25 and 26. J. S. Hickford has offered a fifty-dollar trophy for the handler bringing in the largest number of entries, while a trophy will be given for the best dog of either sex exhibited. It is expected that there will be over three hundred entries at the local show and prize-winners are promised from Vancouver, Seattle, Westminster and Tacoma. Entries close on Wednesday, September 17, and the listing fee of twenty-five cents must accompany each entry.

New Rules Adopted.
Secretary-Treasurer Campbell announces the following additional rules that have been adopted by the club:

2. The bench show committee will use due diligence for the care and safety of all dogs exhibited. Watchmen will be kept on duty day and night, but it must be distinctly understood by all exhibitors that the management will not be responsible for loss or damage to any dog exhibited whether the result of accident or other cause.
3. No dog will be received unless supplied with a suitable collar and chain. Bench show chains are the safest.
4. Each exhibitor is requested to state the price for which he will sell his dog or mark it not for sale, when filling in entry form.

Color for second prize shall be red.
Color for third prize shall be yellow.
Color for winners prize shall be white.
Color for special prize shall be green.

WARDS WILL HAVE SENIOR SOCCER TEAM

It is rumored that President Arthur Manson, of the Victoria and District Football Association, will resign office at to-morrow night's meeting of that body, which will be held in Sam Lormer's billiard hall, corner of Douglas and Johnson streets. Business pressure is said to be Mr. Manson's reason for getting out of sporting circles. The new senior club will present another club, while the Wards will also enter a senior team, giving Victoria six senior clubs, or the greatest first division that has been organized for a number of years. There is also a chance that the Garrison eleven will be back from duty at Nanaimo in time to enter a team, which would give seven first division clubs.

The delegates of the Alberta Football Association, will represent the association at the annual meeting of the new D. F. A. at Port William this week, and had a conference with the heads of the Calgary league before starting for the east.
Mr. Meiers was instructed to work toward an amicable arrangement being made between the D. F. A. and the A. A. U., and to effect, if possible, a change in the definition of an amateur, as viewed by the football rules, so that an Old Country professional, who comes to Canada and settles down, may participate in the league games here as an amateur.
The delegates will also endeavor to have the Connaught cup games played in Alberta next year, if that is at all possible.

LOCAL COMMISSIONER FOR 'FRISCO PORTOLA

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—The Portola festival committee has announced the appointment of a resident Portola commissioner in Victoria, B. C. The appointee is Randolph Stewart, who was prominently identified with the carnival at Victoria early in August. Commissioner Stewart has just made San Francisco a visit, on which he conferred with the Portola leaders and was made familiar with the plans for the big celebration of October 22 to 25.

Victoria is especially interested in the Portola festival, according to Commissioner Stewart, inasmuch as the festival will celebrate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific ocean by Vasco Nunes de Balboa. Among the other heroes whose memories will receive tribute in the festivities is Sir Francis Drake, the English explorer, who sailed the California coast 180 years before Portola made his historic march to San Francisco Bay.

VICTORIA OWNER ADDS TO HIS STRING

J. B. Perry Acquires Speedy Thoroughbreds; Gotella Goes to Eastern Tracks

One of the fastest two-year-olds ever raced on the Pacific coast has been shipped to the big eastern circuit, and is looked upon as a sure winner on the Toronto, Montreal and Port Erie tracks. Gotellus, owned by Gray, of Vancouver, is the spirited little mare in question, and in all her races upon the Pacific coast this year, the speedy sprinter has been beaten but once. That occasion was when Gotellus, shouldering 124 lbs., had been left at the post and finished second by a head. Imprint is another fast coast thoroughbred that has been shipped east, and this pair should be heard from in the near future.

It will interest Victorians to learn that B. J. Perry, the well-known Victoria enthusiast, has purchased a couple of speedy animals which are now racing at Minoru. Mr. Perry closed a deal last week whereby he becomes owner of Little Birdie and Wright Little, and the pair will race under the Perry colors for the balance of the season. George Fraser's game gelding, Gayety Pallen, is once more facing the barrier, finishing second on Monday after a long rest because of a stone bruise. Trainers Tom Martin and Moody also have charge of Victoria stables, and when the Willows meet opens here on September 20 there will be quite a few Victoria owned horses in the feature events.

Because of the Vancouver fair, there will be no racing at Minoru Park until next Saturday, to allow the Minoru horses to enter the fair events. Dr. Richards, another Victoria owner, will bring his entire stable to the capital a few days previous to the local meet to prepare his animals for the big stake events.

AS SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

Four straight beatings for Bert Pitchner.

Narveson made his debut as a fielder when Alberts went into the box.

Victoria needs another good right-handed twirler, also an outfielder, immediately.

Delmas, Crum, Rawlings and Swain continue to hit the ball right on the nose.

Wuffli had three stolen bases and Lynch two, so that there must have been something wrong with the backstopping.

Seattle and Vancouver were kept idle by the rain, so that the leaders remained stationary.

Kanteleiner pulled the game out of the fire on Monday, but yesterday could not locate the plate.

Walter Crum has been beaten four times, but this does not make the centre-fielder gun shy so that it can be noticed.

Swain continues to hammer out doubles in every game. His fielding is also a treat.

Victoria can slip into third place by holding the Spokane team even on this series.

Seattle has won about five games in the past month, and Eugene intends to open his new park next week with Spokane as his guests.

Vancouver will just about breeze home in the lead, with Portland in second place.

Chicago grabbed a double-header from the Naps yesterday, while Washington was trimming the Mackmen.

Geo. Stalling's Boston club is once more playing aggressive baseball and may finish in the first division.

HAWKS VICTORS.

Victoria Hawks defeated the Empire Red Sox, 10 to 8 Labor Day in a fast game. Jimmie Hollinger was in the box for the Red Sox and Ed. Steele on first base. The colored boys were too much for the Sox, their hard-hitting and fast base-running being a factor. The Hawks lined up as follows: first base, Campbell; second base, Collins; third base, Mortimer; shortstop, Hudlin; left field, Carter; centre field, Oliver; right field, Barnswell and Jones; catcher, Gilbert; pitcher, Lee. The Hawks challenge any team of amateurs in the city.

AUSTRALIANS WIN.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 3.—The Australian cricketers kept up their wonderful work here yesterday in the second game of the three-game series, when they put up a great exhibition. Playing a picked eleven from the Winnipeg Association, the visitors rolled up a score of 408 runs for seven wickets, of which Wayne played a fine innings for 151 before he was retired. The locals made a much better showing at the bat than on their first appearance. The Australians finish their visit here to-day, when they play eighteen players from the Winnipeg Association.

PHILLIES GET GAME AWARDED TO GIANTS

New York, Sept. 2.—Reversing the decision of Umpire Brennan, President Thomas J. Lynch, of the National League, announced yesterday that the game of Saturday, August 30, between New York and Philadelphia, will count as a victory for the Philadelphia team. Umpire Brennan awarded the contest to the Giants by a 9 to 0 score, when the Philadelphia management was unable to clear a section of the bleachers back of centre field, asserting that the moving spectators were a handicap to the New York batters. The decision nearly precipitated a riot.

President Lynch in his decision states that Umpire Brennan exceeded his authority in declaring the game forfeited to the Giants, and formally awarded it to the Philadelphia team by a score of 8 to 6, which was the score by which the Phillies led in the ninth inning, when the game was stopped by the umpire.

TO MEET JOHNSON.

Boston, Sept. 3.—Sam Langford, negro heavyweight, is to meet Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, in a bout for the title in Paris, December 20. Arrangements for the match have been completed by cable, according to Joe Woodman, manager of Langford.
The bout is to be for 20 rounds and will be staged in the Cirque de Paris, under the direction of Theodore Vanno. Langford is guaranteed a lump sum and a percentage of the receipts for his appearance, Woodman says.
The Boston heavyweight was defeated by Johnson seven years ago and has been seeking a bout with the champion ever since.

DAVIS CUP GAMES ADVERTISED CANADA

Speaking enthusiastically of the benefits Canada derived from the recent Davis Cup tennis matches, Frank S. Wilding, of Christchurch, New Zealand, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Schwengers, of this city. Mr. Wilding is a brother of the world's tennis champion and is just completing a world tour, leaving for home to-night on the R. M. S. Niagara. He states that an invitation will be extended to a Canadian tennis team to visit Australia and he thinks that the Dominion gained an immense amount of beneficial advertising through the excellent showing of its representatives in the recent matches.

INDIANS HIT BALL AND CAPTURE GAME

Victoria Used Four Twirlers in Effort to Win Struggle;
Score 13 to 9

Spokane, Sept. 3.—Victoria used four twirlers in an effort to stop the struggling Indians yesterday afternoon without avail, the Spokane club emerging victorious after one of the greatest batting feasts of the year. Both clubs swung their war clubs to great effect, the final tally being 13 to 9, no less than 25 hits being registered during the encounter. This gives Spokane six out of the ten games that have been played between these teams on their latest series, and also even up the count on the Spokane grounds. The Indians clouted three Victoria hurriers off the slab, while the Bees made Shuffling Phil Douglas beat a hasty retreat for the second time in three days. Peters gets credit for winning the game, the score being tied when he and Kanteleiner entered upon the scene.

It was a regular cannonade of base hits from the start, Victoria securing first while Spokane kept pegging right along. The entire Spokane club hit well, while Delmas beat the Bees with three safeties. The Indians ran wild on the base paths, Brotemmel being unable to head them off, and it was this feature that enabled them to bring the Indians' downfall. Charlie Alberta, the hard hitting fielder of the Islanders, was brought in to finish the combat, having better success than any of the other runners. The score:

WELSH ONCE MORE STARTS TRAINING

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 3, 1913.—The stage is all set now for the Willie Ritchie-Fredde Welsh, world's lightweight championship twenty-round battle. The contest is to take place on Saturday afternoon, September 20, at the Brighthouse Arena in this city. Jim Griffin, of San Francisco, is to be the referee. Welsh has been doing road work for the past week and to-day opened up his training camp at the Imperial rink with a string of three sparring partners, Eddie Moy, Charley Paten and Bob Bracken. By next Monday he will have two more, Ernie Barrieau and probably Percy Crook. Arrangements are being made with the different railroad and boat lines running into Vancouver for special rates to the battle from all points in western Canada and Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho. They are also arranging to take care of the large crowds that will flock to the contest from all points. The doors of the arena will be opened on the day of the contest at ten o'clock in the morning. A preliminary will be put on at 12:30. Welsh and Ritchie are to weigh in at 12 o'clock, noon, at the arena; at 1:15 they will enter the ring and at 1:30 the battle will start. The weight is to be 135 pounds at twelve o'clock noon.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1906—Joe Gans won on foul from Battling Nelson in 42 rounds at Goldfield, Nev. From the first round of this hard-fought contest, Nelson used every rough trick in his repertoire, using his elbows, fighting in the clinches and butting the negro at every opportunity. The "old master" adopted opposite tactics, and his clean, straight punches slashed the "durable Dane" into mince-meat and frequently sent him to the floor. In the forty-second round Nelson landed a blow below the belt, and Referee Siler awarded the victory to Gans on a foul. Nelson was the stronger of the two at the finish, despite the punishment he had assimilated, and could probably have worn the negro down if he had fought fairly.

1893—Jack Dempsey defeated Harry Force in 11 rounds at Coney Island.

WOLGAST THROUGH

AD. WOLGAST

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 3.—Joe Azevedo, of Sacramento, decisively defeated Ad. Wolgast, former lightweight champion, in a 10-round bout here yesterday. Overcoming a slight attack of stage fright in the second round, Azevedo took the aggressive, forcing the fighting.

LAWN BOWLERS ARE KEPT BUSY

The games in the Short, Hill & Duncan competition, for singles, at the Beacon Hill lawn bowling greens, are down pretty well, the following players still being in this competition: J. Yates plays John Gray in the semi-final, A. R. Langley and W. Davison play in the fourth round and the winner plays F. Robertson in the semi-final. Yesterday afternoon in this competition, John Gray defeated Robert Green by 32 to 16.

The following games have been played in the Clam McKenzie Cup rink competition at the Beacon Hill lawn bowling greens. This is the completion of the first round and the second round will be played as soon as possible:

J. A. Turner defeated J. Anderson by default.

H. E. Banister, sr., won from H. H. Malony by 25 to 9.

J. Yates won over R. McDonald by 18 to 12.

W. Oliphant defeated W. Walker by 18 to 14.

R. Downswell won from A. R. Langley.

Alex. Stewart won from P. Turner by 21 to 20.

SPORT NOTES.

Clifford Ruyle, a young pitcher of New Westminster, is to get a trial with the Seattle club. He will join the local club next Monday on the return of the team from Portland. Pete Schneider will also join the team this week, and he will be given a chance to work, for Pete is big and strong and can go through with nine innings even if he is hit hard.

Joe Jackson seems to be the one American leaguer who is able to nick Walter Johnson for the safe ones. On the Cleveland lot Joe has hit the great Washington pitcher for an average of .456.

Toronto has a bird of a shortstop in young Pick. In a recent Toronto-Jersey City double-header, Pick accepted 17 chances without an error and made seven hits.

The Boston Nationals put one over on several major league clubs when they landed Luque and Padrone, the two Cuban stars of the Long Branch, N. J., team.

The New York Yankees are fast going together a team of youngsters, going to the pitching staff, Sweeney, Cree and Hartzell are the only old-timers in the regular lineup.

Fritz Maisel, the $12,000 beauty bought by the New York Americans from the Baltimore club, is a "wee" of the same type as "Rabbit" Maranville and "Kid" Elberfeld.

SHIPPED TO ENGLAND.

New York, Sept. 3.—The Disturber III, the hydroplane which won the free-for-all championship and the Wrigley Cup at Chicago, was shipped by James A. Pugh, her owner, to England to compete in the forthcoming races for the British international trophy for motor-boats. The Aquile Deep, owned by Count Casimir Manikowski, the first boat selected to represent America in these races, was shipped to England last week. The races for the trophy, known as the Harmsworth Cup, will be held off the Isle of Wight beginning September 11.

HIS CLASS.

This story, says the Tatler, was recently recalled in regard to the late Scottish Astronomer-royal, Professor Copeland. He was also professor of astronomy in Edinburgh University, but the duties of this latter office were not, apparently, very arduous. "How is your astronomy class getting on?" a friend asked him once. "Oh, very well; very well indeed," replied Professor Copeland with a gratified air, "but at present he is laid up with influenza."

DISMISSAL LEADS TO APPEAL TO COUNCIL

Stenographer Writes, Holding That Only Council Can Remove Her From Position

When Mayor Hall was in his second term, Miss Violet Cameron was selected on July 24, 1909, on the fourth ballot as stenographer to the mayor.

Last year she was moved to the city clerk's office and a male secretary to the mayor appointed, and since that time has been engaged in correspondence work under City Clerk Dowler.

The present mayor raised some objection to the office hours she keeps, and objecting that the head of the department would not discipline her, he dismissed her from office.

From that dismissal she appealed to the council last evening, on the ground that unlike other stenographers she was appointed by the council, and therefore can be removed only by it. An acrimonious discussion followed, and ultimately it was decided that the city solicitor should report on the power of the mayor to interfere in the removal of officials.

The mayor indicated that he did not propose to notify the council of the removal of minor clerks and stenographers, and besides Miss Cameron had other work to go to. There was a good deal he might say on the subject.

Some of the aldermen told the city clerk again through Miss Cameron.

Miss Cameron wrote in part: "I cannot understand the reason for this action, though the mayor has told me that it is due to slackness of work in the office. If so, it does not affect me to any extent, for my time is occupied in typewriting or book work all the time."

Aldermen Dilworth, Cuthbert and McNeill severely criticized the mayor for arbitrary dealings with officials, and Alderman Dilworth observed that it was time the council showed the mayor how far he could go.

The mayor said that Miss Cameron had continued in spite of warnings to arrive systematically late at work.

MADE COWARDLY ASSAULT

Herbert Cresswell Sent to Jail for One Month for Attacking a Chinese.

What was described by magistrate and prosecutor as a most cowardly assault was punished this morning by the sending of Herbert Cresswell to the provincial jail for one month with hard labor.

It is a commentary on the apathy of a great many people that the assault was witnessed by at least twenty persons who were on their way home from an evening of pleasure at the theatre on Monday night, and that of these only one or two made any effort to prevent the attack by two intoxicated youths on an inoffensive Chinese.

Cho Sung, a resident of the city for many years, who is now employed by Thomas H. Gallen, and who has an excellent reputation, was on his way home across the causeway at 11:30 on Labor Day when he met two men coming from the direction of Belleville street. One of them made a swing at him and he hurried on, but they turned and followed him, blackening both of his eyes. He was knocked down, and when he rose again and asked what the matter was they hit him again.

A couple of ladies pulled the men away, and they proceeded towards the post office. Cho Sung followed after, and when he met Constable McLellan complained to him. Cresswell was arrested and was identified by the Chinese as he stood in the dock. The other man has not yet been found.

Fred Landsberg was going home on the other side of the road when he noticed the crowd on the harbor side of the causeway and saw that two men were beating a Chinese unmercifully, as he put it. He crossed over to intervene, but the attack was ended as he got to the spot by a man taking Cresswell by the back of the neck and pushing him away. Had the men not been drunk, Mr. Landsberg said, he felt like walking into them himself.

Constable McLellan, as soon as Cho Sung made his complaint, went after the men who, when they saw him coming, ran down Courtney street. Cresswell was caught at the post office and the other disappeared along Langley street.

Cresswell's story was that he was returning from seeing friends off on the Tees when he saw another man and the Chinese fighting. He was innocent of any hand in the trouble, according to his account.

City Prosecutor Harrison characterized the assault as one of the most cowardly attacks by whites on Chinese that had ever come before the attention of the court. No matter what the nationality it was a case for imprisonment, he considered, and not for a fine.

Magistrate Jay told the accused he had been undoubtedly guilty of an unprompted and cowardly assault on an inoffensive passer-by, and sent him to jail.

HUMOR AND THE PULPIT.

Professor Strong, writing in the Academy on Scottish humor, says the minister is more free than the clergyman in the south to vary the nature of the service in his church.

This freedom is sometimes fortunate for him, as in the following instance. The minister of a small country parish, on arriving at his church, found that he had thoughtlessly left his sermon behind him at the manse. The congregation were all assembled, and he was taken aback. An idea suddenly struck him. He summoned John, the beadle—a most important functionary—and directed him to give out to the congregation the 119th Psalm, which they might sing while he hurried back for his sermon. On his way back he saw the faithful beadle waving his arms and beckoning him to hurry on. On reaching the door he exclaimed: "Are they still singing, John?" "Ay, sir," replied John, "they're at it yet, but they are all cheeping like sparrows." The beadle aids the minister with moral reflection and comments, sometimes reminding us of the functions of the Chorus in old Greek drama. A young minister, after preaching his first sermon in his new parish, requested the beadle to give him his opinion of that discourse. To his mortification, he received the chilling reply, "Well, sir, I'm thinkin' ye will be no fashed to get yon trash aft yer stomach."

Old Fallacy That Drunkenness Can-

Many men drink who desire to stop the man must have whiskey or some-

SCRAP BOOK.

Centenary of Eotvos, Hungarian Statesman.

Hungarians in America, as well as at home, will celebrate to-day the centen-nary of the birth of Baron F. Eotvos, statesman, novelist, poet and cratist. Although he has been dead for over forty years, Eotvos still lives in Hungarian literature and politics, and some of his books have already taken their place among the classics of his country.

Eotvos was born in Buda on Sept. 2, 1813, and was educated in the University of Pesth. Buda and Pesth were then separate municipalities, but have since been consolidated under the name of Budapest. Eotvos was a proficient youth, and was only seventeen when he commenced his literary career by translating one of Goethe's works. This was followed by two original comedies and a tragedy, which showed such remarkable beauty of style as to immediately place the young author in the front rank of Hungarian writers.

At twenty Eotvos began his official career as a vice-notary, and after two years went to Vienna. In 1835 he travelled through Germany, Switzerland, France, and Great Britain. He returned to his native land to become the editor of the Arisikon, in which appeared his great novel, "The Carthusian."

Eotvos was a leader in many reforms, and his works on these subjects, as well as his fiction and verses, gained for him the respect of Europe. He was a brilliant advocate of prison reform, and his eloquent defence of "The Emancipation of the Jews" was still more remarkable. Many of his works of this period were published for the benefit of the sufferers from the terrible flood which devastated Pesth in 1838.

In 1840 he took a seat in the upper house of the Hungarian diet, and became a leader of the advanced political movement of that period. Soon afterward he lost his fortune and was forced to seek a subsistence in the labors of his pen, while he continued to expose the national cause. In his novel, "The Village Notary," he boldly exposed the abuses connected with the rule of the nobles. This volume was translated into English and several other languages. He was the champion of centralization, while Kossuth defended the autonomy of the counties.

In 1848 Baron Eotvos received the portfolio of minister of public instruction, but the stormy course of events that shortly followed led to his retirement. He went to Vienna and afterward to Munich, but returned to Pesth in 1851, when he published his "The Influence of the Ruling Ideas of the Nineteenth Century on the State."

In this work he expressed his confidence in the faithfulness of the age to humanitarian ideas, notwithstanding his utilitarianism. He was largely instrumental in preparing the popular mind for those constitutional changes which were afterward introduced. Following the coronation of Franz Josef as King of Hungary in 1867, when the second Hungarian ministry was called into existence, Eotvos was again made minister of public instruction. He was at that time the president of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, and many other honors had been conferred upon him. He died in 1871. A monument to his name and fame, and his books continue to exert a profound influence on Hungarian thought.

CANADIAN CELEBRITIES
MRS. TORRINGTON

"When Married to a Musician—Be a Manager."

The true story of how the daughter of Warring Kennedy, once Mayor of Toronto, became the wife of the main father of modern music in Canada is worth remembering. Dr. Torrington himself has told the story. Thirty years ago and more it was when Torrington first came back to Canada from Boston, where he had gone from Montreal to the organ and choir of the Metropolitan Methodist church. He was then a widower with several grown-up children. In the front row of sopranos sat Miss Kennedy, who many a time gazed with quiet admiration at the fingers of the organist.

Happened that from choir practice the organist quite frequently got his organ locked, the console lights out and himself down to the door with hat and cane about the moment that Miss Kennedy was ready to walk home. As she usually came alone and lived not far from the church, it was only courtesy in the organist to accompany her father's door.

And of course people talked then, as they did before, and have since and always will, about the friendship between the soprano singer and the organist. She knew it. So did he. And the acquaintance grew. Rumor had it soon that they were engaged.

Suddenly one Friday evening on the way home the organist said to his companion with his usual abruptness: "Miss Kennedy, I dare say you have heard the rumor—that you are engaged to marry me?"

"Yes," was the reply, "I have heard that."

"And of course it's pure fiction—"

"Oh, absolutely—of course."

The organist swung his cane and coughed in his crimp, odd style.

"Well Miss Kennedy," he resumed as they turned a corner and a horse car went jingling by, "are you willing to consider the possibility of making the fiction into a fact?"

"Remember," he said as they stood at the gate, "I have several children. Take plenty of time to consider it."

Three weeks later the fiction became a fact. In a few months Miss Kennedy was Mrs. Torrington.

This meant very much more than keeping house and attending to social duties. It meant being a partner in the business. She was not merely wife of a choirmaster and organist, but of a man who had energy for half a dozen other things at the same time. First of all there was the College of Music. That was started in the building where it still stands on Pembroke street, Toronto. The place was built to be not only a college but a home. The hundreds of students who came there entered the front door of Mrs. Torrington with the big brass plate. On the big main hallway opened on one side the office of the college, on the other the drawing room of the Torringtons. Music and the home were as close as two lines of notes in a piece of music.

Nothing went on in the college unknown to Mrs. Torrington. When mere housekeeping and social duties were attended to, she worked harder at the business of the school than any other member of the faculty, except the principal, she was in fact an assistant principal, without the title. Had she been less musical she might have been less capable for so peculiar a task. Merely musical, she must have failed. With her remarkable combination of capabilities for music and social life and for practical business, she succeeded as few women could have done in so exacting a role.

Social duties and music were often very much of the same thing. Parents who came to interview the professor were pleasantly entertained by the handsome, cultured lady who took such an intimate interest in even the small details of the college. Many and many an obvious tangle Mrs. Torrington helped to unravel while the energetic principal was teaching, while he did morning, noon and night, playing the organ on Sundays, conducting rehearsals of his choir on Fridays, his Philharmonic chorus and of his orchestra on two other evenings of the week.

Often and often to the college of an evening came bands of players, violins and cellos and horns to drill away at some oratorio for a concert. Often came scores of singers with music books; one evening basses and tenors, another altos and sopranos, to sing away until after 10 o'clock at the same oratorio. And Mrs. Torrington was one of them; singing in the choir, at every singing rehearsal whether in the church or at the college music hall, or up at Victoria hall on Queen street, or at the old pavilion where so many of the big concerts of the professor were held. No rehearsal was ever quite a success without her. And when it was over there was the supper down in the big jolly dining room, where many and many a convivial party of musical people were gathered. Besides, the many solo artists who came to sing at the concerts must all be entertained at the college, and well Mrs. Torrington knew, as she still does, how to interest any of them, no matter of what nationality they might be.

But this was by no means all. There was the actual business of the college to attend to: the books—for the professor was no hand for accounts. Book-keeping for a college of music is no task for an amateur or a mere chartered accountant. It is a case for an expert; and Mrs. Torrington had the faculty of taking most of these vexatious details off her husband's hands, leaving him free to wrestle with the many projects that he kept constantly working up for the good of the public.

It was more exacting and in many ways much more interesting than being the wife of a Methodist minister. Every year a fresh lot of students from here, there and everywhere, many of them to make feel at home in a strange city, which though only a big college town at that time, was yet a very bewildering place to many a miss from a country town or Ontario village.

Then the curious tangle that affairs would sometimes get into. Music outside of the college was very much of a benevolent matter. How many hundreds of young Italians and Hebrews from St. John's Ward were gathered under that roof of a Saturday evening to learn fiddles and horns and the like all without cost of profit to the professor! In all this Mrs. Torrington took a keen womanly interest. Without her—well many rehearsals of that sort would have been less than half so successful and hearty, even though she only sat and listened, as often she did, just to encourage the young strangers and foreigners.

Besides, what perplexities often arose in the old Philharmonic! How many rehearsals were poorly attended in bad weather, and how many singers were often absent through illness! Mrs. Torrington never! She seemed never to have time to be ill; always time and inclination to be helpful and sociable and cheerful and hardworking as any chorister just learning "do-re-mi." With the orchestra, tangles were more of them. More than once in face of a heavy deficit on some costly concert, the instruments were seized as security for some account. What must the professor do, but talk it over with his wife, and then himself go and pay to have the instruments taken out.

Few women have had such a hum-anly interesting career, even without going outside the immediate circle of her husband's business and her home. But to all this Mrs. Torrington added, as she does still, a very active interest in charitable organizations. Often and often she has been in attendance at the city hall to help organize charities, at the university mingling with professors and their wives, for the college was early affiliated with the university, and this made a fresh round of agreeable responsibilities. Mrs. Torrington was also the first president of the Toronto Chapter of the National Council of Women, of which she is now the president. She was never too busy to give to any of these organizations the benefit of wise womanly counsel and hard earnest labor. But they were mainly the outward adornments of a life filled with good works.

Her unwavering devotion to the causes engaged in by Dr. Torrington has been her chief characteristic. In all these with her more public concerns she has been far too busy for mere social frivolity. Had she been the wife of a cabinet minister she might have been far less busy and done much less good. It is sometimes considered foolish in a woman to take a keen practical interest in the details of her husband's work. Mrs. Torrington never had any objection to that sort of folly. In fact she immensely liked it. The work itself interested her. It was seldom easy; often perplexing. As Dr. Torrington, the pioneer, became gradually one of many doing big things in a public way, the work was even more difficult.

But there was always the humorous side. No doubt Mrs. Torrington recalls the Sunday morning when the organ bellows broke down, as it often did before electricity was installed; how when at the close of the service the organist spoke of this to a member of the music-committee, and was given some very plausible reply. He snapped out with benevolent impatience:

"Well, if it's a matter of expense, please get the thing fixed and take the cost out of my salary."

There was sometimes much more truth than humor in a situation like that; and if the story of his life now being finished by Dr. Torrington does not contain many chapters devoted to one woman's work, it is because her work was so deftly into the general good that not even a historian could have traced it without making a second volume.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

With the death of Ferdinand August Bebel, the distinguished leader of the German social democracy, the distinction of being the world's foremost Socialist probably falls to M. Jean Leon Jaures, the eloquent parliamentarian spokesman for French Socialism. Since 1885 he has been a member of the Chamber of Deputies, and has waged unceasingly against the established order, refusing all offers to go over to "the enemy."

M. Jaures will receive the congratulations of his colleagues to-day on his fifty-fourth birthday. He was born on September 3, 1859, in the little city of Castres, in the south of France. He had a natural bent toward the study of philosophy and economics, and after leaving college, determined upon a career as an educator. For several years he held the chair of philosophy at Albi and Toulouse. Always a radical, he devoted Socialism, and soon became a devoted adherent of the Marxian school of economics.

Jaures was twenty-six when he first took his seat in the Chamber of Deputies. Despite the handicap of youth, he soon made himself a leader. His fiery eloquence won applause from even his political enemies, and few cared to meet him in debate. As editor of La Petite Republique, and the author of many books and pamphlets, he was equally forceful.

As a leader of the powerful Socialist party of France, M. Jaures has occupied a position midway between those factions who scornfully refer to each other as "opportunists" and "impossibilists." By his tact and diplomacy he has prevented a rupture in the party.

Personally M. Jaures is plump, prosperous, elegantly dressed and apparently well fed. While far from rich, he has never denied himself the good things of life. "I do not preach poverty and self-denial," declares M. Jaures—nor does he practice them. Throughout his career he has waged on war, "that criminal folly," and has used all his influence to hamper the French war and navy departments. As a result he has been nicknamed "The Prussian" by the defenders of war. Among the great men of present-day France who began their political careers as Socialists, M. Jaures is practically alone in remaining true to his early convictions. In religion he is an agnostic, but on this point he agrees with most of the administration leaders. In the political policy which Jaures described as "giving God his passports," the Socialists and the Radicals and Radical-Socialists have worked together.

The Earl of Halsbury, the third eldest member of the British House of Peers, was born eighty-seven years ago to-day, September 3, 1826. During his life he has ruled as an Englishman's throne. Lord Halsbury recently undertook the general editorship of the "English Digest," a new work in which the entire case law of England from earliest times to the present will be published in twenty-four massive volumes. The venerable peer was created a knight in 1875, Baron Halsbury in 1885, Viscount Tiverton in 1898, and elevated to an earldom in the same year. He has held the posts of solicitor-general and lord chancellor, and is a leader in English Freemasonry.

Ex-Queen Lydia Kamakaeha Lili-ukalani of Hawaii, the corpulent and dusky lady who was ousted from her throne by Uncle Sam, was born seventy-five years ago to-day. It was her attempt to restore absolutism that led to her dethronement in 1893, and the subsequent annexation of her kingdom by the United States. Since then "Queen Lili," as she has been known as, Mrs. John O. Dominis, which was the name of her Boston-born husband, who died in 1891, the year of her proclamation as queen.

REGIMENTAL MUSICIANS.

To the Editor:—I beg to deny the statement that appeared in last Saturday's Times in which Lieut.-Col. Currie of the Fifth Regiment is quoted as saying that those members of the Musicians' union who proceeded to the strike zone with their regiment would be fined by their local for their action. Let me at once say that there is at present no law of the Musicians' Association which in any way interferes with a member when engaged on strictly regimental work. I am very loath to believe that Lieut.-Col. Currie made any such statement as above, as he is hardly one who would praise the work of the men and in the next breath, as it were, accuse them of breaking laws which they would have a hand in the making of.

MR. SIVERTZ'S REJOINER.

To the Editor: My foreign birth is again made an excuse for a personal attack on me in last evening's Times. I shall refrain from discussing that condition of my existence. I shall leave it to your readers to form their own conclusions as to the propriety of my broad-mindedness displayed in making my alien birth a feature of this discussion.

As I understand it, I am an equal before the law to any British born; therefore, nothing can apply to my participation in the meeting referred to that would not and does not apply with equal force to any other subject of the King. "Loyalist" takes the attitude that, being a citizen and a servant of the government I have no right of expression, and therefore any expression on my part, in the nature of criticism of the acts of the King's government is disloyal. I must differ from "Loyalist" in his interpretation of the conditions and obligations of citizenship. If his contentions were correct, then every movement inaugurated at all and any time for legislative redress throughout British history would be disloyal, because they have all invariably started as movements of protest either against law or administration, and the King's subjects have as a rule compelled an unwilling King's government to grant a reform or improve its administration. The result is that a greater measure of liberty obtains to-day under the British flag than at any previous time in its history. I have mingled with the common people of Great Britain, as they are met with here in Canada, and I feel positive from what I have heard and seen of them that they intend to preserve this right of protest. So far from admitting that my citizen's rights are in any way abridged by reason of my position as a working man, I claim the same right with my fellow-subjects to express my approval or disapproval of the laws or administrative policy adopted for the time being. This point I am also satisfied to leave to the judgment of your readers.

Permit me to draw your attention, Mr. Editor, to the anxiety "Loyalist" displays about my employment. He wants that job taken away from me, for he says, I cannot be trusted. My record is available, and the question of my honesty or integrity as a servant should be easily settled. Without discussing that question any further, I wish simply to observe that in my humble judgment "Loyalist's" dislike of my views has led him to an unfortunate and unusual departure from common civility usually observed by persons that differ on a principle. But perhaps it is not principle, but my employment, he is wrought up over.

"Loyalist" seems to think that I should not express any criticism. I presume he would not prohibit me expressing my admiration of any act of the King's government. Allow me to state my view in part on that point. By reason of my citizenship I feel that I owe it as a duty to the King to point out any act on the part of his government which is calculated to result in misfortune or sorrow to his subjects. That is how the British nation has progressed. I would be undeserving of the rights of citizenship which I now enjoy and claim if because of an opportunity to earn my bread in a less precarious way than my fellow-subjects I became indifferent to their hardship and sufferings. "I accept full responsibility for assuming that the King's wishes towards his people are that they shall enjoy the greatest degree of happiness, and he would make his desires manifest to any government in his empire, were he in a position to do so. Any other attitude on his part is unthinkable. He is too wise a ruler and too good a man to hold any other views. When, therefore, the administration of his government seems to adopt an unwelcome policy, it is likely to alienate confidence or cause discontent and suffering to his subjects. I claim that my loyalty to the King demands that I voice my protest against such policy, as the success of the King's government depends on the contentment and happiness of his subjects being secured through wise laws and their impartial administration. In the present instance appeal was made to the administration for relief which was withheld and the workers left to wage unequal battle. Infractions of the law were alleged and the government declined to investigate, contenting itself with watching the tragedy of the hungry stomachs of the workers fighting against the ample bank accounts of the employers. Harsh and heavy punishments were meted out to the workers on strike for minor transgressions, while the authorities seemed slow and unwilling to deal with infractions of the law committed by those on the side of the employers. When a disturbance occurred as the result of provocations, the soldiers were sent there, notwithstanding the fact that the strikers had established peace in the meantime.

I am of the opinion that an unwelcome policy was pursued by the administration from the beginning of the dispute and that the recent disturbances cannot be properly judged without taking that into consideration. I therefore deem it a duty I owe to my sovereign and fellow-subjects to protest against an administrative policy which I consider responsible for these breaches of the peace.

Gurney - Oxford Baking
Worthy of the Art of a Chef

The average woman abhors having to spend all her time in the kitchen striving to accomplish some new dish in baking. But when she can have a range like the Gurney-Oxford, cooking becomes a pleasure and a fascination because of its consistent assured success.

The heat of the whole range is controlled by one lever, called the Economizer, with remarkable ease and effect.

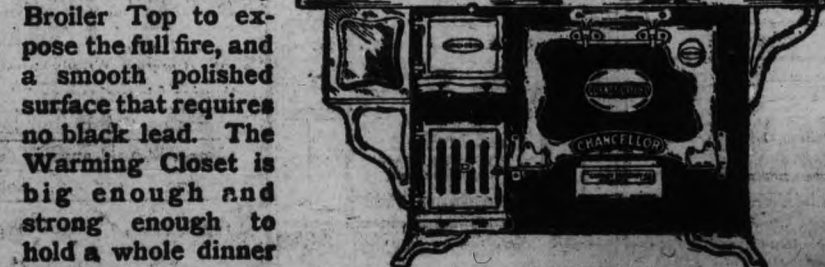

The oven is entirely surrounded by a perfectly even heat of any degree required for any kind of baking. Pans of biscuits, light rolls, or cakes, all cook evenly with a delicate, golden brown crust without having to be constantly changed around next the heat as in other ranges.

This perfect Gurney-Oxford oven encourages a woman to attempt delicious and unusual recipes of her own invention. Her reputation for being a "splendid cook" is at once established.

The Gurney-Oxford Economizer regulates the exact degree of heat which is directed through the oven by a Divided Flue Strip with perfect evenness in every corner. The fire is held low on a Special Reversible Grate which burns every coal to a white ash. There is a lift-up Broiler Top to expose the full fire, and a smooth polished surface that requires no black lead. The Warming Closet is big enough and strong enough to hold a whole dinner service.

This Gurney-Oxford is the range for women of to-day.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Hon. George Eulas Foster, minister of trade and commerce, was born in New Brunswick, of Loyalist descent, sixty-six years ago to-day. He was the Douglas gold medalist at the University of New Brunswick, and the prizeman in literature at the University of Edinburgh, and completed his education at the famous University of Heidelberg, Germany. After teaching in schools for a time he became professor of classics at the University of New Brunswick. He began his active political career in 1882, and represented Kings, N. B., from that year until 1896. His rise was rapid and in 1896 he became minister of marine in Sir John A. Macdonald's government. Three years later he was made finance minister, and continued to hold that portfolio under Sir John Abbott, Sir John Thompson, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Charles Tupper. As minister of trade and commerce in the Borden government he made a trip this year to Australia and the Far East.

Sir Guy Carleton, Lord Dorchester, was born in Strabane, Ireland, on this date in 1724. He distinguished himself at the sieges of Louisbourg and Quebec, and defeated the expeditions of Montgomery and Arnold. In 1781 he became commander-in-chief in America. His brother, Thomas Carleton, was quartermaster-general to the army in Canada in 1775, and was appointed governor of New Brunswick in 1783.

Moses Harvey, the Canadian historian, died at St. John's, N. E., twelve years ago to-day. In 1873 he discovered the devilfish, a monster of the deep, up to that time supposed to be mythical.

Donald MacMaster, long one of the most distinguished members of the Canadian bar, was born sixty-seven years ago to-day.

This is the 130th anniversary of the signing of the second "Treaty of Paris," often referred to as the "Treaty of Versailles," by which Great Britain acknowledged the independence of her former colonies, the United States of America, and gave up to the new nation the Ohio Valley which, in 1774, had been put under the jurisdiction of Canada. The valuable privilege of taking fish on the banks of Newfoundland and in the Gulf of St. Lawrence was also granted to the Americans, who were represented by the astute negotiators, Dr. Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and John Jay. The boundaries of the United States were not accurately settled, and both the deficiency and the provisions with regard to the fisheries were destined to be fruitful of trouble. Moreover, though by the terms of the treaty congress was bound to urge the state legislatures to restore the confiscated property of British subjects who

BUILDING BRIDGES

Steel Now Being Assembled for the Construction of Viaduct Over Canyon.

Steel is now being assembled for the construction of the splendid viaduct which is to span Arbutus Canyon on the route of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway. As has already been announced the concrete piers for the structure have been in position for some weeks, and now that the other material has arrived, it will not be long before the trestle at one of the finest scenic bits between this city and Duncan will be an accomplished fact.

The Arbutus Canyon bridge, however, is not the only construction work of that nature which is being undertaken by the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway, and their programme for the next year or so includes an extensive campaign of bridge construction along the route of the new east coast extension from McBride Junction to Courtenay. Among the spaces to be bridged on this route are French Creek and the Little Qualicum.

Owing to the lateness of the arrival of the steel for Courtenay extension cannot be completed this year, but the work is being pushed through with all possible speed.

NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED AT ST. ANDREW'S

Miss Claudia Hall Becomes the Bride of Dr. Herbert Austin Brown

Manes of white sweet peas and white asters were artistically used in the decoration of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for the wedding this afternoon at 2:45 of Dr. Herbert Austin Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Brown, and Claudia Louise, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, of 905 Linden avenue.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked quite a picture in a gown of white charmeuse, the long square-cut train of which was secured at the waist into a pleated belt. The bodice was mostly of lace with high necked yoke of shadow lace over net and inset bodice of same with short lace sleeves, while a scarf of silk shadow lace was arranged in semi-flochu style and fell to the foot of the gown in front, where it was caught in the drape of the skirt. Her hair was mostly of lace with high necked yoke of shadow lace over net and inset bodice of same with short lace sleeves, while a scarf of silk shadow lace was arranged in semi-flochu style and fell to the foot of the gown in front, where it was caught in the drape of the skirt.

The bride was fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms, and the long veil of white tulle was arranged beneath a circlet of the same traditional flower, a pleated frill finishing the line over her hair. Her shower bouquet was composed of roses and lilies-of-the-valley, and as her only ornament she wore a diamond ring, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Vera Watts, the maid-of-honor, wore a beautiful frock of coral brocade crepe with accordeon-pleated pailments of the same, and a black hat with black bird of paradise. Her bouquet was of mauve sweet peas. Mr. Tom Brown acted as best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Charles F. Earle, Harold Brown, Cecil Hall and Burnley Hall.

Mrs. Hall, the bride's mother, was handsomely gowned in petunia mauve charmeuse, with a large number of white ruffles of shadow lace at the cuff, her hat being of black straw with ostrich plumes. Mrs. Brown, the bridegroom's mother, wore a smart costume of grey cloth with plumed hat of mauve-colored straw.

The full choir was in attendance, and led the singing of "The Voice of the Breathing of Eden," while Mr. Joseph Longfield, who presided at the organ, played the wedding marches while the bridal party entered and left the church.

At the reception which was held afterwards at the residence of the bride's parents, a large number of the friends of the happy couple extended their congratulations and wishes for happiness. Dr. and Mrs. Brown standing in an embrasure at the end of the drawing-room during the reception. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated, yellow asters and sunflowers forming the decorations in the hall, white asters and sweet peas the decorations in the drawing-room, and pale pink and white sweet peas, with festoons of smilax, the centre-piece of the dining-room table where the beautiful wedding cake stood.

Quantities of handsome presents were received by the happy pair, who left by the afternoon boat for a honeymoon trip in Del Monte, at the conclusion of which they will make their home at Newport avenue, this city.

The bridegroom's presents were: To the maid-of-honor, amethyst brooch; to the best man, cuff links; and to the ushers, silver matchboxes.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

Slang Number on a Car is Taken by Complainant as Registered Number.

The police are looking for the owner of the racing motor car which bears on its sides the number "23," and when found will have to explain why it is not registered and what he has to say to an allegation that on Thursday morning it was being driven on Rockland avenue at an excessive speed.

The number being taken by a witness as the number of the car a summons was issued to E. J. Cameron as registered owner of demonstration number 23, and he appeared this morning in police court to answer it. He said his car had not been out that day and wanted to know why he should be put to the trouble and expense of appearing.

City Prosecutor Harrison stated to the court that the car in question, it was discovered, was not registered at all so far as the records of the provincial police showed, and therefore the charge against Mr. Cameron should be withdrawn. Mr. Harrison said it could be proved that the car was speeding at the time mentioned in the information.

The case was withdrawn.

TO BE AUCTIONEED

Rorison Property Has Not Yet Been Withdrawn From City Tax
Sale To-morrow.

To-morrow there promises to be one of the most important tax sales in the history of Victoria.
City Treasurer Smith said at noon to-day that the city had still some 50 parcels of land upon which the taxes were not paid, including the valuable Rorison property on the causeway.
He had received numerous inquiries for the various parcels to be offered.
Such a section as the causeway lots has never yet been offered at a tax sale in the city's history, with only $4,300 of taxes due, and the bidding will be spirited unless it is redeemed in the next 24 hours.
The sale will commence at noon in the council chamber and numerous citizens will be in attendance when the city treasurer commences the auction.

RECESSIONS SHOWN IN NEW YORK LIST

Market Under Good Control
With London Interests on Selling Side

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, Sept. 2.—The list showed disposition to further recessions, and in most instances declines of a minor extent were witnessed.

While the general market shows signs of being under good control, strong indications are seen on the part of London and various interests to reduce long lines of American issues, and with the influence of speculative sellers to force a lower range of prices the most serious downturn throughout was not surprising.

Preparations are said to be under way for the funding of the floating debts of the Balkan states and Turkey into fixed obligations. This it is anticipated will have the tendency to produce a little hardening in European money rates.

Bank clearings for the week ending
September 2, as reported by the Victoria Clearing House, were $2,186,769.

Pennies do not consist of copper alone, there being in them 2 per cent. of tin and 8 per cent. of zinc & 60 of copper. They cost the government about 10 a pound exclusive of stamping, and there are forty-eight of them to the pound.

TWO-POINT SETBACK IN GRANBY PRICES

Standstill Marks Coronation With Wide Margin Between
Bid and Sellers

Victoria, Sept. 2.—Granby suffered a setback of two points, which in view of recent rapid advances is not unnatural;
but the decline is due more to general market conditions than to individual characteristics of the stock.

Coronation at 70@90 is at a standstill, and this wide margin between the bid and the offer price is fairly indicative of the erratic tendency in evidence.
Considerable dissatisfaction is being aroused as regards development work on the property and notwithstanding the fact that this is now well under way, next to nothing can be learnt as to the extent and quality of such, hence the dormant condition of the shares.

outside interest is being evinced.

WHEAT RALLIES TWO CENTS NEAR CLOSE

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, Sept. 2.—The wheat trade had the help of firm Liverpool cables from the English market. Shorts were reported covering there on dealer American winter wheat offers. Better demand for cargoes was also claimed.
This cable news, together with the play of strength in N. W. markets, where the spring crop is beginning to move, helped the buying side. An important feature early was the discovery that a number of leading cash interests were actively taking the September wheat and making corresponding sales for the later months.

COL. PAYNE TALKS OF MEXICAN AFFAIRS

Analyzes Present Situation and Tells of Country and Its People

Colonel Payne, who was for seven years resident in Mexico as representative of several important interests in the United States, and as special commissioner to Mexico of the World's Fair at Chicago, favored the Times with an interview yesterday on Mexican affairs. In view of the interest and excitement which the relations between Uncle Sam and the country to the south are at present engendering everywhere, the colonel's remarks on the status, people and government of Mexico are particularly appropos.

"Since the time of Porfirio Diaz," he says, "things have been at sixes and sevens, demoralization on every hand, until capital and labor are upset entirely. Those who have large investments in the country are greatly concerned to know where they are to get off at, and now Uncle Sam takes a hand and wants to know what is to be done, settling his dictum, and waits for his answer. But Uncle Sam will find in Mexico a very knotty problem, perhaps one of the most vexatious he ever had to tackle. He sent to Mexico a man versed no doubt in diplomatic affairs at home, a man of education, tact and ability, but one who is absolutely ignorant of the language and customs of Mexico, and what can he do? They listen to what he has to say and then laugh at him. Mexico is laughing at Uncle Sam to-day, wondering what he is going to do about it. He has withheld his recognition, and that, in view of Mexico's depleted finances is a rather serious matter, and may bring Mexico to its knees. But what it will cost Uncle Sam is still another question.

Hate Americans.

"The memory of '47 is still fresh in the recollection of many of Mexico's population, and they hate Americans. They suffer them where money forces its way, but they hate Americans all the same, and warfare between the United States and Mexico would mean a guerilla warfare of the most destructive character, entailing the loss of thousands of men and many millions of money.

President Wilson sends word to all Americans to get out of Mexico. What the hidden meaning of this admonition is no one knows; but with the president's backing in the sun of his summer home in New Hampshire, and Secretary Bryan on a lecture tour, it does not seem as if there was any great cause for alarm.

"Mexico is a big country. Its area is something over 750,000 square miles, which, compared with the United States (3,600,000 square miles) gives an idea of its size. It is also a very old country, and as a state under Spanish rule antedates the oldest settlements of French and English in the

New World. The population is something like fourteen million, of several distinct classes of people—native Indians, Creoles of Spanish descent but born in Mexico, Spaniards born in Europe, and the half-breeds who are crosses between the other classes and the Indians. Not over four million of these can read or write, the rest constituting what is commonly called the Peon class, resembling in many of their habits and characteristics, the negroes of the southern states in America. The cost of living to them is not a matter of importance, as the climate is salubrious and they are able to live on the fruits and herbs of their localities. They sleep in the open, and have little or no concern for the morrow.

Great Resources.

"The country is full of rich resources, but in her industrial evolution has hardly got beyond the primitive stage. Vast areas of land are still unclaimed, the land laws being somewhat restrictive until recent years. The mineral wealth of gold, silver, lead, copper and iron is very great; but productive enterprise, with the exception of a few modern plants here and there, is carried on with the crudest methods. It would make an up-to-date miner laugh to see how persistently a peon will cling to his sack of ore on the back instead of using the wheelbarrow, and how the peon on the farm loves to wobble wearily across the plain with goad in hand to guide his pair of bulls pulling a forked stick plough merely scratching the earth. It is almost inconceivable how these poor ignorant people content themselves to work in such primitive ways, but they do not know any better and have no ambition to learn.

"The City of Mexico, a place of some 800,000 people, is one of the gayest capitals of the world, much like Paris in some respects. Here the educated classes live, and from here the whole country is governed. It is in theory a democratic and federal republic, but is actually a monarchical government in every practical sense of the word. Twenty-seven states, three territories and a federal district comprise the country. The divisions are made up much the same as in the United States, each subordinate part supposed to manage its own affairs under the rules laid down in a constitution, but as a matter of fact they are managed absolutely by the president and his coterie in Mexico City.

Retarded by Turmoil.

"Revolutions and disturbances have beset the country and held it back in the march of progress for many years, and not until General Porfirio Diaz assumed the reins of government in 1876 were there any substantial signs of stability. With the exception of one term when General Manuel Gonzalez succeeded to the presidency, Diaz held the chair with great foresight and ability, until some two years ago when he was banished from the country through the treachery of the very men he had made. His enforced exile is a blot on the history of Mexico, but the name of Diaz will go down to posterity as one of the great men of the age. It was he who gave encouragement to the men who built the railroads beginning with the early eighties, and it was he who made education compulsory throughout the country, and due to his wise rule was the rapid advance made between 1880 and 1910—thirty years of wonderful development, considering the material he had to work on."

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Rev. J. G. Inkster, Rev. Mr. Pratt and Mrs. Graves Speak at League Meeting

The first of the winter season's meetings of the Political Equality League, held last evening at the Unitarian hall, was largely attended, and some very interesting addresses were given, that by Rev. J. G. Inkster opening the programme.

Mr. Inkster pointed out the position of the women's enfranchisement movement in England to-day. The government divided, the Labor party pledged to support it. The much-maligned militant methods had at least crystallized the question to-day.

His reasons for supporting it the speaker placed under two major heads: (1) That women, neither inferior nor superior to men, but their equal, should have equal rights; and (2) The giving of the franchise to women would lessen the sin and sorrow and suffering of the vast mass of the women, have no voice in legislation to suppress them.

Mr. Inkster briefly referred to the fact that in addition to the large section of militant suffragists there was a great host of educated, cultured, and hard-working women who supported the movement. Legislation along the lines of moral reform, he said, was a long way overdue. Temperance legislation, for example, would never be considered as it should be by men, who were the worst offenders. Gambling would never be properly debated by men. Horse-racing and gambling were two distinct things; he had nothing against the former, but everyone, every community, knew the evil of professional gambling both to the individual and to the community. The social evil was a point of legislation which was hopelessly in arrears; no woman voter would say, as men voters had been known to say, that the red-light district was necessary in any city. The city of Victoria stood second to none in respect to natural beauty, but the population was materialist in the extreme.

In conclusion Mr. Inkster pledged his assistance in approaching the government in behalf of the cause, whenever he was asked by the leaders of the organization here to do so.

Struggles To-day.

Rev. Mr. Pratt referred to the struggles which had always occurred in connection with the passing of any great reform. Everyone looked back with envious longing to the times of Magna Charta, for instance, and heroically wished he might have been present on that historic occasion. They forgot that there were struggles just as significant, just as far-reaching in their possible effects, going on to-day. The women's movement was one of these, and in years to come people would be sorry that they had not seized the opportunity to take part in the world movement.

As a democrat, he could not see how any man could claim that faith who immediately retracted his statement by saying that he believed in representation of only one-half of the people. Women were outclassed in the legal scheme because they had no ballot. Politicians only gained respect for people when they could vote. This was well known. Consequently women's claims would only receive proper consideration when they held the franchise. One faction of statesmen considered the movement as a new one. But it was past the experimental stage in many countries. And yet the appalling anticipated "unsexing" had not taken place. Women should unite. Then the cause would succeed.

An Englishwoman's point of view was given during the evening by Mrs. Graves, who feelingly expressed her appreciation of the warm-hearted sympathy with the movement in England which she had heard expressed. The subject was profoundly serious. Even anti-suffragists must admit the right of every woman to protect herself and her children. To-day in England 22,000 children were being brought up in work-houses. In 64 of these the children were cared for by little better than imbeciles. The result was that more than half the children died before maturity, and were a complete loss to the nation. Infanticide mortality was a stupendous question, but it was being steadily neglected in those countries where women had no power to legislate in their behalf. In countries such as New Zealand and Australia, where women voted, the question was very seriously considered, and in the former country the infantile mortality had been worked down to a percentage of only 62 per 1,000. Infantile mortality was the one great index to the healthy or unhealthy standing of nations. And yet where men were the legislators this great point was almost a negligible consideration.

Needed For Women.
Prisons, municipal lodging homes, etc., suffered from lack of women's legislation. One of the great needs in the Old Country to-day was municipal lodging-house accommodation for women. Every city had municipal lodgings for men. That was because men did the legislating. But in a great city like London there was no such institution, although there were thousands of poor women and girls just as there were thousands of poor men and boys. It was not because such institutions were not successful, but simply because legislation on the matter was neglected by the male legislators. In Glasgow and Manchester there were women's lodging houses, founded by women, and these were not only successful but profitable.

Even prisons for women were administered by men, male warders, male doctors, etc. This was wrong. If militancy had done nothing else in England it had exposed some of the scandalous brutalities of the English prison system, and reforms had already taken place. Further, when a man was tried for an offence he was tried by his peers; the same justice should be given women. In the English struggle the women had nothing whatever to do with party politics. If the government opposed the women's enfranchisement movement, then the women would oppose the government, whether it were Liberal or Conservative.

Mrs. Grant, who presided, pointed out that there was at least one thing in which women were considered equal to men; that was, their subjection to penalty for the breaking of man-made laws. Mrs. Parsons and Miss Shrapnel provided musical numbers during the evening.
